Eisenhower Proclaims Code For POWs

Recognizes Any Man Can Be "Broken"

President Orders Specific Training By Armed Forces

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower today proclaimed a military code that holds to the loftiest ideals of bravery, but recognizes that every man, if captured, has a breaking point under physical or mental torture.

The President's executive order, issued at the summer White House in Denver, was made public by the Defense Department.

An accompanying report, prepared by framers of the code, said that since modern warfare may reach "the doorstep of every citizen," it may well become a code "for all Americans if the problem of survival should ever come to our own Main Streets."

The need for a code became most apparent in the Korean War, when a number of American captives were tortured or otherwise induced into making false statements against their country. Also, a number were found to have ratted on their fellow prisoners.

The code proclaimed today, is for men in combat as well as captivity. It follows:

1. "I am an American fighting man. I serve in the forces which guard my country and our way of life. I am prepared to give my life in their defense.

Special Favors Ruled Out

2. "I will never surrender of my own free will. If in command I will never surrender my men while they still have the means to resist.

3. "If I am captured I will continue to resist by all means available. I will make every effort to escape and to aid others to escape. I will accept neither parole nor special favors from the enemy.

4. "If I become a prisoner of war, I will keep faith with my fellow prisoners. I will give no information or take part in any action which might be harmful to my comrades. If I am senior, I will take command. If not, I will obey the lawful orders of those appointed over me and will back them up in every way.

5. "When questioned, should I become a prisoner of war, I am bound to give only name, rank, service number and date of birth. I will evade answering further questions to the utmost of my ability. I will make no oral or written statements disloyal to my country and its allies or harmful to their cause.

6. "I will never forget that I am an American fighting man, responsible for my actions and dedicated to the principles which made my country free. I will trust in my God and in the United States of America."

Cannot Deny Country

Gen. John E. Hull, one-time supreme commander in the Far East and vice chairman of a committee which drew up the code, told reporters that it recognizes that "any man can be broken if enough pressure is put on him."

Still, Hull said, those who framed the code were convinced that, "No matter what the pressure, there are certain things that a man cannot do, such as deny his country."

Another inconceivable thing to the code's framers, he said, was the "most despicable act" of a man informing on his fellow prisoners to their captors.

The White House order directed the military services to help prepare their men to live up to the ideals of the code by providing each one with specific training and instruction to "better equip him to counter and withstand all enemy efforts against him."

Hall Tells Probe Of 1946 'Blunder'

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—After three days of hearings, the House Un-American Activities Committee today found an actor who admitted he had been a Communist—and he named six others he said he knew as Communists.

George Hall, who has appeared in several Broadway plays and numerous radio and television shows, told the committee he joined the party in 1946 and remained active for about nine months.

Hall named six other actors and actresses as Communists during that time: John Randolph and his wife, Sarah Cunningham; Alan Manson; Joshua Shelley; George Keane and Keane's wife, Betty Winkler.

Hall Answers All Questions

Randolph and his wife both invoked the Fifth Amendment before the committee Monday. Keane and Shelley testified after Hall and pleaded the Fifth Amendment. Manson is to appear before the committee later in the week. Miss Winkler was not subpoenaed.

Hall was the first witness of the 17 so far called who admitted Communist membership and answered all questions asked him.

"The Communists will loathe me," he said, "but I'm going to be much prouder in the new friends I'll make than in the loss of the ones who will loathe me."

Committee Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) said, "I want to express appreciation for the committee—the whole Congress—for what you have done here today. It isn't easy."

"Blunder," Actor Says

Walter said Hall was among "the brave people who come forward to help preserve America."

Hall said, "No one influenced, persuaded or cajoled me into the Communist party. This blunder was mine. I take full responsibility for it."

He said he was drawn to the party because he was "emotionally immature" and was convinced during service in the Army that "certain minorities needed my help—like a hole in the head."

He later decided that the minority group he was concerned about "had more individual liberties, rights and opportunities" in the United States than they would have "in their own fatherland."

Big Cheese Deal By Government Ruled Improper

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP) — Comptroller General Joseph Campbell ruled today the Agriculture Department made an "unauthorized and improper" deal with cheese distributors last year — at a cost of about two million dollars to the taxpayers.

Rep. Fountain (D-NC), chairman of a House subcommittee which investigated the transactions immediately called on the Agriculture Department to take steps to recover the money.

Without mentioning any possible recovery proceedings, the department said in a statement it had acted on advice from its counsel and "solely in the interest of American farmers and incident to overall price support efforts to bring stability to the dairy industry." It also contended the transactions saved money for taxpayers, instead of losing it.

Deal "Poor Judgement"

Fountain said the deal indicated "very poor judgment on the part of those responsible," although he was not prepared at this time to accuse any department officials of "intentional wrongdoing."

About 90 million pounds of cheese was involved in payments made to about 100 distributors in March and April, 1954, Fountain said.

The situation arose when Secretary of Agriculture Benson decided to lower the government's price support for cheese from 90 to 75 per cent of parity on April 1, 1954.

Distributors Unloaded

Distributors immediately moved to unload all the cheese they could on the government before the support level fell, the Agriculture Department said.

In order to keep cheese in channels where it would be readily available to consumers, the department added, it arranged "purchase-resale transactions" under which it paid distributors for the cheese at the old support level of 90 per cent of parity and sold it back to them at the new 75 per cent rate in a series of paper transactions.

End Of Secrecy Seen Speeding Atom Research

GENEVA, Aug. 17 (AP) — The French high commissioner for atomic energy said today the atoms-for-peace conference had ended the era of "absurd secrecy" in the nomilitary aspects of nuclear research.

As a result, he said, progress in development of atomic power and other peaceful uses of this new energy "will be considerably accelerated."

The high commissioner, Francis Perrin, spoke at a news conference a few hours after an American scientist had made a similar statement to reporters.

Dr. Donald J. Hughes, of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven, N.Y., laboratory, said the exchange of hitherto-secret information at Geneva had paved the way for building safer and bigger atomic reactors in the future.

Hughes spoke specifically about an exchange of information this morning on "cross sections" of some key atomic fuels—plutonium, uranium 235 and uranium 233. He said the United States, Britain and Russia had found their individual data closely matched — thereby giving assurance to all that they could go ahead with confidence.

He described the lifting of the secrecy as "the emblem of the whole conference."

Perrin expressed "very great satisfaction with the remarkable success of the conference." He added:

"One can say that from now on there will be no secrecy in the development of atomic energy for peaceful uses."

U. S. Plane Reported Attacked

TOKYO, Thursday, Aug 18 (AP)—The Far East Air Forces today said an unidentified U.S. aircraft, presumed to be a missing and unarmed T6 trainer, was reported shot down by North Korean ground fire yesterday. FEAF said the incident was observed by South Koreans.

FEAF said the missing plane, a two-seater, took off with a pilot and observer from Kimpo air base, near Seoul, 2 p.m. on a "local flight."

The FEAF announcement said the last radio report from the plane was received at 3 p.m.

Approximately 30 minutes later, said FEAF, South Korean observers reported that an unidentified plane was hit by gunfire and crashed near the demilitarized zone.

The Korea-based 2157th Air Rescue Squadron, which has been conducting a search, has found no trace of the plane or passengers.

"Give-'Em-Hell" Speech Tour Planned By Truman

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP) — Harry S. Truman today prepared a "give-'em-hell" speechmaking campaign aimed at helping return the Democratic party to the White House.

The former President said the Democrats can defeat President Eisenhower or any other GOP candidate in 1956 by starting early and "taking the issues to the people" in every state.

Truman has enlisted in such a campaign. He will start the ball rolling by talks at French Lick, Ind., Aug. 27; Mackinac Island, Aug. 29 and in Detroit, Sept. 5. At a Labor Day rally. Two talks in California will follow about the middle of September.

"I'm going to tear into the Republicans," he declared in a long distance interview from his office at Kansas City, Mo.

Truman brushed aside any suggestion that he might be available as a candidate. He reiterated his support of Adlai Stevenson for the nomination if the former Illinois governor decides to make the race again. Stevenson's candidacy is regarded by most observers as a foregone conclusion.

Alabama Gov. James E. Folsom has said Truman could have the nomination if he wants it, and be elected.

Truman stressed, however, that "I'm in this fight for the duration and behind the Democratic nominee, whoever he may be." He talked like the "give 'em hell" campaigner of 1948.

Convicts Revolt, Fire Buildings

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 17 (AP)—State troopers and National Guardsmen, ordered to shoot to kill if prisoners were not back in their cells within two minutes, broke up a rebellion in the Nebraska Penitentiary at daybreak today.

Warden Joseph B. Bovey immediately declared a tougher policy was in the making after this latest in a series of disturbances.

"For those who refuse to go along with us—they force us to be more strict," he said.

The 12-hour riot of more than 220 prisoners who set fires destroying four buildings and damaging two others was the second revolt this year and the fifth in the last four years. The prison has a population of 687.

Last March eight rebels in the maximum security building seized two guards as hostages and stayed holed up there for 3½ days before they were starved out. "Four or five" of those men were involved in the new rioting, prison officials said.

Jets Fly 5,118 Miles Nonstop; New Record

OMAHA, Aug. 17 (AP)—Twelve Republic F84F Thunderstreak jets today flew nonstop from England to Austin, Tex., a distance of 5,118 miles, for a Strategic Air Command record.

The time for the flight, SAC headquarters said, was 10 hours and 48 minutes.

The jets, attached to the 27th Fighter Wing, landed at Bergstrom Air Force Base in time for lunch, after having taken off from Sturgate AFB near London at 8 a.m. London time.

A SAC spokesman said multiple air refueling was by KC97 tankers from Barksdale, La., and Westover AFB, Mass.

Street Battles Rage In Argentine Capital

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 17 (AP)—Antigovernment demonstrators clashed with police and supporters of President Peron's government today in several parts of downtown Buenos Aires. Many persons were injured. About 50 were arrested.

Police broke up the disorders with tear gas and fire hoses. But fights kept erupting for a two-hour period. Several shots were fired during one encounter near the U. S. Embassy.

About 500 persons started the demonstration with a march down Florida Street, yelling antigovernment slogans. About the same time, a few blocks away, another group leaving Mass at the Roman Catholic Metropolitan Cathedral on Plaze de Mayo began demonstrating.

Men Hurled Through Window

Both groups clashed with police and other government adherents. The shots were fired a half a block from the American Embassy. This fight started when police tried to arrest a man who had been hurled through the plate glass window of a swank curio shop.

Another street battle began shortly after as the antigovernment demonstrators regrouped. Police again dispersed the crowd with tear gas and fire hoses.

The victim of still another engagement was an old man who was beaten so severely on the head he had to be hospitalized.

The total number of victims of today's violence could not be determined.

Wobbly Truce Ended

The outbreaks eruped only about 12 hours after the Peronista party had declared what appeared to be an end to the wobbly two-month truce between the Peron government and the Catholic church, the state church in Argentina.

Renewal of the feud between the church and state had been expected since the government said Monday night it had uncovered a plot to assassinate Peron and other government leaders. The government blamed "Catholic nationalists" and opposition politicians for the alleged plot. Both Catholics and the opposition parties have denied the accusation.

Parents Who Beat Tots, Tied Hands Given Jail Terms

CANASTOTA, N.Y., Aug. 17 (AP)—A mother and father were sent to jail for six months today after two of their children were found beaten and lying on a bedspring with their hands tied.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hobart appeared in Madison County Children's Court on charges of physical neglect and abuse of minor children. Hobart, 35, an employe of a fertilizer firm, pleaded guilty. His wife entered no plea.

A policeman, called by neighbors who heard screams, found 5-year-old Carol and 4-year-old Donald Hobart in their tenement room last night about two hours after the parents had gone to a carnival.

Coast Guard Holds Up Youth's Commission

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Coast Guard today disclosed a case in which a reserve commission for a youth has been withheld because of security questions involving his mother.

The Coast Guard said it is withholding a commission from N. Pierre Gaston, 23, pending a review. Gaston was graduated April 1, from the Coast Guard Officer Training School at New London, Conn. He ranked eighth in his class.

His attorney, Murdaugh Madden, said Gaston's commission has been held back because his mother was alleged to be a member of, or active in, organizations cited by the attorney general as subversive.

Eisenhower Lands Two-Pound Trout

FRASER, Colo., Aug. 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower turned up with the prize catch—a 2-pound Rocky Mountain trout—at his vacation retreat here today. But his 7-year-old grandson got just as big a kick out of landing two smaller fish.

"This is a fine way to start the trout season," the President shouted in delight as he reeled in the big fellow, a 17-incher. He looked it a few seconds after he started casting in St. Louis Creek with a dry fly.

Grandson David, who fished earlier in the day without the President caught two 12-inch rainbow trout.

Prisoners Strike

COMSTOCK, N. Y., Aug. 17 (AP)—About 175 prisoners began a sit-down strike at Great Meadow Correctional Institution today after five minutes was clipped off their recreation period.

Korean Attack Is Denounced; American Hurt

SEOUL, Thursday, Aug. 18 (AP)—A battle of rocks and tear gas yesterday sent a young U. S. Army officer to the hospital as tension and tempers rose over Korean demonstrations against Red truce teams.

An angry U. S. Army port official at Inchon, where the latest violence erupted, bluntly told Koreans backing the demonstrations that their attitude was that "of gangsters."

A U. S. source privately labeled the latest outbreak "unfortunate and shocking." He said it was likely U. S. Ambassador William S. B. Lacy would lodge a strong protest with President Syngman Rhee.

The trouble began at Seoul's port of Inchon shortly after 1 p.m. on the causeway leading to Wolmi Island. Truce teams have been besieged on the island in the harbor by 11 days of Korean demonstrations.

The Koreans tried to block U. S. Army trucks bringing supplies to Wolmi by driving up trucks and blocking the main gate.

U. S. Army sentries at the barricades opened up with tear gas, vomiting gas grenades and fire hoses.

The South Koreans, about 100 strong, backed away, then laid down a rock barrage on five Army vehicles which started across to Wolmi.

At the same time, three Army vehicles crossed the causeway from Wolmi. They likewise were caught in the rock barrage and Lt. Wayne N. Hansen, Augusta, Ga., was struck on the head but not seriously injured.

Alexander Resigns

FRASER, Colo. Aug. 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower today accepted the resignation of Gov. Archie A. Alexander, of the Virgin Islands. There recently were demonstrations against Alexander's policies.

Burke Takes Over As New Chief Of Naval Operations

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 17 (AP)—Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, one of the youngest admirals to ever head the Navy, took over his new duties today with a pledge to meet "any threat to our country's sea supremacy and our national security no matter from where that threat comes."

He relieved Adm. Robert B. Carney as chief of naval operations in precedent-breaking ceremonies at the U.S. Naval Academy. It was the first time the command had been charged outside Washington offices since the job was created in 1915.

The 53-year-old destroyer commander, who helped spark an "admirals' revolt" for a new supercarrier in the 1940s, had wanted to hold the ceremonies aboard the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga at Norfolk, Va., to demonstrate his belief in Navy striking force.

The approach of hurricane Diane forced a switch to Annapolis, which Secretary of the Navy Thomas called "the cradle of the Navy" and said still signified a closeness to the fleet.

Burke took his oath of office from Adm. Ira R. Nunn, judge advocate general, in colorful ceremonies witnessed by about 2,000, including heads of the other services in Dahlgren Hall. Plans to hold the affair outside were canceled out by intermittent showers.

A 17-gun salute boomed out to the new CNO after he broke his flag from a specially rigged flag staff in the armory building and he turned to Carney with a snappy salute and said, "I relieve you sir."

Burke praised the outgoing chief as "one of the most outstanding naval leaders in our history."

Fast-Waning Storm Blows Into Virginia

Winds Drop To 35 MPH; Rain Results In Some Flooding

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 17 (AP)—Weary hurricane Diane, fast wearing herself out in her overland journey after eight fierce days at sea, swept into south central Virginia tonight from North Carolina.

In her wake the once powerful storm left only minor, scattered damage. Most of this was from higher than usual tides which flooded sections of towns in northeast North Carolina and rains that battered crops already hard hit last week by hurricane Connie.

The designation of "hurricane" now was only an identifying label for the tropical blow whose 100 m.p.h. winds dropped to 74 m.p.h. as she passed Wilmington, N.C., and gradually diminished to 35 to 45 m.p.h. as she blew into Virginia east of Danville.

Nears West Virginia

Diane was moving toward the northwest at 13 m.p.h. This speed and direction, if maintained, would put the weakening storm in northern West Virginia by mid-morning Thursday.

Gusts as high as 55 m.p.h. were reported by Danville, in the center of the southside tobacco-growing area. Norfolk, on the Atlantic coast, had gusts to 53 m.p.h.

Diane's wind and rain caused traffic dislocation in some sections of Virginia. Ferry service was suspended by the State Highway Department across Hampton Roads and on the James and Rappahannock rivers. The wind toppled the roof from a foundry building at Norfolk and a wall of the building collapsed.

Connie Much Wetter

It was too early to assess the extent of damage to corn and tobacco crops, hurt in some cases seriously last week by Connie, a much wetter and more worrisome hurricane than Diane.

Early reports indicated relatively slight damage along North Carolina beaches.

At Elizabeth City, in the northeastern corner of the state, business establishments and other houses along the Pasquotank River were invaded by 18 inches of water. Gusts up to 60 miles an hour had blown in high tides in early afternoon. A shift in the wind from northeast to the south caused waters to begin receding.

'Diane' Brings Flood Threat To W. Md.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 17 (AP)—Dizzy, dissipated Diane failed to keep her date with Maryland today but promised a slight buzz of far Western Maryland by morning with possible flooding.

Losing her hurricane status as she blew through Virginia, Diane carried on little more than a long-distance flirtation with Maryland in the form of rain and moderately strong winds.

In a special bulletin at 8 p.m. (EDT), the Weather Bureau said Diane was centered near Danville, Va., still moving to the north, northwest about 15 miles per hour.

"With this course, the storm path should lie near Lynchburg and Elkins (W.Va.) during the night and up to the extreme western part of Maryland by Thursday morning. This course of the storm should dimish its effects slightly from the Chesapeake Bay to the Atlantic Coast and cause worsening weather across the Piedmont and mountain sections.

"Diane, however, has lost her hurricane characteristics and is now just a vigorous storm system. Moderate to heavy rains in the Piedmont and mountain sections of Maryland and adjacent portions of surrounding states is likely to cause some local flooding in those areas on Thursday."

Hurricane Edith May Be Brewing

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 17 (AP)—The Miami Weather Bureau today discovered an "area of suspicion" far out in the Atlantic, some 1,500 miles east of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Gordon Dunn, chief hurricane forecaster, said the disturbance, an easterly wave, was being watched.

No name has been given the disturbance. Should it develop into a major tropical storm of hurricane intensity—winds of 75 or more miles per hour—it will be named Edith, in line with the Weather Bureau's policy of labeling hurricanes in alphabetical sequence, with girls' names.

Weather Forecast

Windy with moderate to heavy rain this morning followed by partial clearing in afternoon.

U. S. Plane Reported Attacked

TOKYO, Thursday, Aug 18 (AP)—The Far East Air Forces today said an unidentified U.S. aircraft, presumed to be a missing and unarmed T6 trainer, was reported shot down by North Korean ground fire yesterday. FEAF said the incident was observed by South Koreans.

FEAF said the missing plane, a two-seater, took off with a pilot and observer from Kimpo air base, near Seoul, 2 p.m. on a "local flight."

The FEAF announcement said the last radio report from the plane was received at 3 p.m.

Approximately 30 minutes later, said FEAF, South Korean observers reported that an unidentified plane was hit by gunfire and crashed near the demilitarized zone.

The Korea-based 2157th Air Rescue Squadron, which has been conducting a search, has found no trace of the plane or passengers.

"Give-'Em-Hell" Speech Tour Planned By Truman

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP) — Harry S. Truman today prepared a "give-'em-hell" speechmaking campaign aimed at helping return the Democratic party to the White House.

The former President said the Democrats can defeat President Eisenhower or any other GOP candidate in 1956 by starting early and "taking the issues to the people" in every state.

Truman has enlisted in such a campaign. He will start the ball rolling by talks at French Lick, Ind., Aug. 27; Mackinac Island, Aug. 29 and in Detroit, Sept. 5, at a Labor Day rally. Two talks in California will follow about the middle of September.

"I'm going to tear into the Republicans," he declared in a long distance interview from his office at Kansas City, Mo.

Truman brushed aside any suggestion that he might be available as a candidate. He reiterated his support of Adlai Stevenson for the nomination if the former Illinois governor decides to make the race again. Stevenson's candidacy is regarded by most observers as a foregone conclusion.

Alabama Gov. James E. Folsom has said Truman could have the nomination if he wants it, and be elected.

Truman stressed, however, that "I'm in this fight for the duration and behind the Democratic nominee, whoever he may be." He talked like the "give 'em hell" campaigner of 1948.

Convicts Revolt, Fire Buildings

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 17 (AP)—State troopers and National Guardsmen, ordered to shoot to kill if prisoners were not back in their cells within two minutes, broke up a rebellion in the Nebraska Penitentiary at daybreak today.

Warden Joseph B. Bovey immediately declared a tougher policy was in the making after this latest in a series of disturbances.

"For those who refuse to go along with us—they force us to be more strict," he said.

The 12-hour riot of more than 220 prisoners who set fires destroying four buildings and damaging two others was the second revolt this year and the fifth in the last four years. The prison has a population of 687.

Last March eight rebels in the maximum security building seized two guards as hostages and stayed holed up there for 3½ days before they were starved out. "Four or five" of those men were involved in the new rioting, prison officials said.

Jets Fly 5,118 Miles Nonstop; New Record

OMAHA, Aug. 17 (AP)—Twelve Republic F84F Thunderstreak jets today flew nonstop from England to Austin, Tex., a distance of 5,118 miles, for a Strategic Air Command record.

The time for the flight, SAC headquarters said, was 10 hours and 48 minutes.

The jets, attached to the 27th Fighter Wing, landed at Bergstrom Air Force Base in time for lunch, after having taken off from Sturgate AFB near London at 8 a.m. London time.

A SAC spokesman said multiple air refueling was by KC97 tankers from Barksdale, La., and West over AFB, Mass.

Street Battles Rage In Argentine Capital

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 17 (AP)—Antigovernment demonstrators clashed with police and supporters of President Peron's government today in several parts of downtown Buenos Aires. Many persons were injured. About 50 were arrested.

Police broke up the disorders with tear gas and fire hoses. But fights kept erupting for a two-hour period. Several shots were fired during one encounter near the U. S. Embassy.

About 500 persons started the demonstration with a march down Florida Street, yelling antigovernment slogans. About the same time, a few blocks away, another group leaving Mass at the Roman Catholic Metropolitan Cathedral on Plaze de Mayo began demonstrating.

Men Hurled Through Window

Both groups clashed with police and other government adherents. The shots were fired a half a block from the American Embassy. This fight started when police tried to arrest a man who had been hurled through the plate glass window of a swank curio shop.

Another street battle began shortly after as the antigovernment demonstrators regrouped. Police again dispersed the crowd with tear gas and fire hoses.

The victim of still another engagement was an old man who was beaten so severely on the head he had to be hospitalized.

The total number of victims of today's violence could not be determined.

Wobbly Truce Ended

The outbreaks eruped only about 12 hours after the Peronista party had declared what appeared to be an end to the wobbly two-month truce between the Peron government and the Catholic church, the state church in Argentina.

Renewal of the feud between the church and state had been expected since the government said Monday night it had uncovered a plot to assassinate Peron and other government leaders. The government blamed "Catholic nationalists" and opposition politicians for the alleged plot. Both Catholics and the opposition parties have denied the accusation.

Eisenhower Lands Two-Pound Trout

FRASER, Colo., Aug. 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower turned up with the prize catch—a 2-pound Rocky Mountain trout—at his vacation retreat here today. But his 7-year-old grandson got just as big a kick out of landing two smaller fish.

"This is a fine way to start the trout season," the President shouted in delight as he reeled in the big fellow, a 17-incher. He hooked it a few seconds after he started casting in St. Louis Creek with a dry fly.

Grandson David, who fished earlier in the day without the President caught two 12-inch rainbow trout.

Prisoners Strike

COMSTOCK, N. Y., Aug. 17 (AP)—About 175 prisoners began a sit-down strike at Great Meadow Correctional Institution today after five minutes was clipped off their recreation period.

Parents Who Beat Tots, Tied Hands Given Jail Terms

CANASTOTA, N.Y., Aug. 17 (AP)—A mother and father were sent to jail for six months today after two of their children were found beaten and lying on a bedspring with their hands tied.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hobart appeared in Madison County Children's Court on charges of physical neglect and abuse of minor children. Hobart, 35, an employe of a fertilizer firm, pleaded guilty. His wife entered no plea.

A policeman, called by neighbors who heard screams, found 5-year-old Carol and 4-year-old Donald Hobart in their tenement room last night about two hours after the parents had gone to a carnival.

Coast Guard Holds Up Youth's Commission

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Coast Guard today disclosed a case in which a reserve commission for a youth has been withheld because of security questions involving his mother.

The Coast Guard said it is withholding a commission from N. Pierre Gaston, 23, pending a review. Gaston was graduated April 1, from the Coast Guard Officer Training School at New London, Conn. He ranked eighth in his class.

His attorney, Murdaugh Madden, said Gaston's commission has been held back because his mother was alleged to be a member of, or active in, organizations cited by the attorney general as subversive.

Burke Takes Over As New Chief Of Naval Operations

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 17 (AP)—Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, one of the youngest admirals to ever head the Navy, took over his new duties today with a pledge to meet "any threat to our country's sea supremacy and our national security no matter from where that threat comes."

He relieved Adm. Robert B. Carney as chief of naval operations in precedent-breaking ceremonies at the U.S. Naval Academy. It was the first time the command had been charged outside Washington offices since the job was created in 1915.

The 53-year-old destroyer commander, who helped spark an "admirals' revolt" for a new supercarrier in the 1940s, had wanted to hold the ceremonies aboard the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga at Norfolk, Va., to demonstrate his belief in Navy striking force.

The approach of hurricane Diane forced a switch to Annapolis, which Secretary of the Navy Thomas called "the cradle of the Navy" and said still signified a closeness to the fleet.

Burke took his oath of office from Adm. Ira R. Nunn, judge advocate general, in colorful ceremonies witnessed by about 2,000, including heads of the other services in Dahlgren Hall. Plans to hold the affair outside were canceled out by intermittent showers.

A 17-gun salute boomed out to the new CNO after he broke his flag from a specially rigged flagstaff in the armory building and he turned to Carney with a snappy salute and said, "I relieve you sir."

Burke praised the outgoing chief as "one of the most outstanding naval leaders in our history."

Korean Attack Is Denounced; American Hurt

SEOUL, Thursday, Aug. 18 (AP)—A battle of rocks and tear gas yesterday sent a young U. S. Army officer to the hospital as tension and tempers rose over Korean demonstrations against Red truce teams.

An angry U. S. Army port official at Inchon, where the latest violence erupted, bluntly told Koreans backing the demonstrations that their attitude was that "of gangsters."

A U. S. source privately labeled the latest outbreak "unfortunate and shocking." He said it was likely U. S. Ambassador William S. B. Lacy would lodge a strong protest with President Syngman Rhee.

The trouble began at Seoul's port of Inchon shortly after 1 p.m. on the causeway leading to Wolmi Island. Truce teams have been besieged on the island in the harbor by 11 days of Korean demonstrations.

The Koreans tried to block U. S. Army trucks bringing supplies to Wolmi by driving up trucks and blocking the main gate.

U. S. Army sentries at the barricades opened up with tear gas, vomiting gas grenades and fire hoses.

The South Koreans, about 100 strong, backed away, then laid down a rock barrage on five Army vehicles which started across to Wolmi.

At the same time, three Army vehicles crossed the causeway from Wolmi. They likewise were caught in the rock barrage and Lt. Wayne N. Hansen, Augusta, Ga., was struck on the head but not seriously injured.

Alexander Resigns

FRASER, Colo. Aug. 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower today accepted the resignation of Gov. Archie A. Alexander, of the Virgin Islands. There recently were demonstrations against Alexander's policies.

Fast-Waning Storm Blows Into Virginia

Winds Drop To 35 MPH; Rain Results In Some Flooding

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 17 (AP)—Weary hurricane Diane, fast wearing herself out in her overland journey after eight fierce days at sea, swept into south central Virginia tonight from North Carolina.

In her wake the once powerful storm left only minor, scattered damage. Most of this was from higher than usual tides which flooded sections of towns in northeast North Carolina and rains that battered crops already hard hit last week by hurricane Connie.

The designation of "hurricane" now was only an identifying label for the tropical blow whose 100 m.p.h. winds dropped to 74 m.p.h. as she passed Wilmington, N.C., and gradually diminished to 35 to 45 m.p.h. as she blew into Virginia east of Danville.

Nears West Virginia

Diane was moving toward the northwest at 13 m.p.h. This speed and direction, if maintained, would put the weakening storm in northern West Virginia by mid-morning Thursday.

Gusts as high as 55 m.p.h. were reported by Danville, in the center of the southside tobacco-growing area. Norfolk, on the Atlantic coast, had gusts to 53 m.p.h.

Diane's wind and rain caused traffic dislocation in some sections of Virginia. Ferry service was suspended by the State Highway Department across Hampton Roads and on the James and Rappahannock rivers. The wind toppled the roof from a foundry building at Norfolk and a wall of the building collapsed.

Connie Much Wetter

It was too early to assess the extent of damage to corn and tobacco crops, hurt in some cases seriously last week by Connie, a much wetter and more worrisome hurricane than Diane.

Early reports indicated relatively slight damage along North Carolina beaches.

At Elizabeth City, in the northeastern corner of the state, business establishments and other houses along the Pasquotank River were invaded by 18 inches of water. Gusts up to 60 miles an hour had blown in high tides in early afternoon. A shift in the wind from northeast to the south caused waters to begin receding.

'Diane' Brings Flood Threat To W. Md.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 17 (AP)—Dizzy, dissipated Diane failed to keep her date with Maryland today but promised a slight buzz of far Western Maryland by morning with possible flooding.

Losing her hurricane status as she blew through Virginia, Diane carried on little more than a long-distance flirtation with Maryland in the form of rain and moderately strong winds.

In a special bulletin at 8 p.m. (EDT), the Weather Bureau said Diane was centered near Danville, Va., still moving to the north, northwest about 15 miles per hour.

"With this course, the storm path should lie near Lynchburg and Elkins (W.Va.) during the night and up to the extreme western part of Maryland by Thursday morning. This course of the storm should dimish its effects slightly from the Chesapeake Bay to the Atlantic Coast and cause worsening weather across the Piedmont and mountain sections.

"Diane, however, has lost her hurricane characteristics and is now just a vigorous storm system. Moderate to heavy rains in the Piedmont and mountain sections of Maryland and adjacent portions of surrounding states is likely to cause some local flooding in those areas on Thursday."

Hurricane Edith May Be Brewing

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 17 (AP)—The Miami Weather Bureau today discovered an "area of suspicion" far out in the Atlantic, some 1,500 miles east of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Gordon Dunn, chief hurricane forecaster, said the disturbance, an easterly wave, was being watched.

No name has been given the disturbance. Should it develop into a major tropical storm of hurricane intensity—winds of 75 or more miles per hour—it will be named Edith, in line with the Weather Bureau's policy of labeling hurricanes in alphabetical sequence, with girls' names.

Death Toll In Korean Red Prison Camps "Ghastly

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP) — American prisoners of war in the Korean conflict "cannot be found wanting" in military virtues, the Defense Department POW committee held in its report today.

The committee pointed out that the "ghastly death toll" in Korean prison camps "was the worst since the Revolutionary War."

Of the 7,190 American servicemen taken prisoner in the Korean conflict, 2,730 or 38 per cent, died in enemy camps.

In World War II the Axis powers captured 129,701 Americans of whom 14,090, or 10.9 per cent, died in enemy prison camps.

The POW committee said that, "a few statistics may prove reassuring to anyone who thinks the American forces are undermined by Communist propaganda in Korea."

Of the 4,428 Americans who survived Communist imprisonment, only a maximum of 192 were found chargeable with offenses against their comrades or the United States.

"Or, put it another way," the committee's report said, "only one out of 23 American POWs was suspected of serious misconduct."

Nehru May Ask Western Help

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 17 (AP) —Prime Minister Nehru may appeal to the Western powers to try to persuade Portugal to give up its territories in India, authoritative diplomatic sources said today.

That he will make some new dramatic move in the next few days is regarded as a certainty with Monday's "nonviolent march" into Goa and other Portuguese settlements putting him in a tight political spot.

A dispatch from Belgaum, less than 50 miles from Goa's northeast frontier, said 800 determined Indian Nationalists, mostly Socialists who had missed Monday's "peaceful invasion," were marching toward the Portuguese colony's border. They intended to cross at Banda, despite the killing and wounding of marchers who entered there Monday.

Margaret Expected To Wed Townsend

LONDON, Aug. 17 (AP) — A wave of expectation swept through Britain today with a growing conviction that Princess Margaret may soon announce her decision to marry handsome Peter Townsend, 40-year-old, divorced war hero.

On Sunday Margaret becomes 25. From that birthday onward — by the Royal Marriage Act of 1772 — the pretty princess can take steps to wed without the consent of her sister, Queen Elizabeth II.

On Sunday the royal family and their close friends will gather in their Scottish highlands retreat at Balmoral Castle to bid happy birthday to Margaret — and perhaps hear of her decision.

UMW Welfare Fund Increases

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers chief, reported today that the UMW welfare and retirement fund grew more than 10 per cent in the past year, winding up with a cash balance of $103,607,911.

This balance, which was for June 30, 1955, compared with cash on hand of $93,565,044 on June 30, 1954.

Lewis, chairman and chief executive officer of the welfare and retirement fund said in the fund's annual report that revenue to the fund during the year amounted to $129,227,658 and that expenditures totaled $119,184,791.

Virtually the entire revenues of the fund come from royalties collected by the United Mine Workers under labor agreements with the mine operators on each ton of coal mined.

Missing Girl Found; Wed Fellow Worker

BALTIMORE, Aug. 17 (AP) — Frances Marine, Veterans Administration stenographer missing since last Friday was found today —shortly after police issued a 16-state alarm—in Washington, married to a fellow worker.

Frances' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland C. Marine, had told police they feared their daughter had been kidnaped. They said they did not believe she sent a telegram they received Saturday from Silver Spring which read: "Married. See you in a few days. Frances."

That apparently is just what happened.

Marine told police he talked by telephone today with Earl Moore, his daughter's new husband and was assured Frances would be home tonight, "for a visit."

Union Shop Clause In GM Pact Upheld

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 17 (AP) — Judge Walter Pritchard upheld a union shop clause in the new General Motors wage contract today, saying he has no right to write a so-called "right to work" law, defeated by three Indiana legislatures.

V. R. Smith, 40, an employe of GM's Allison division here, had asked for an injunction against enforcement of the new CIO United Auto Workers contract with GM. He contended it would force him to join UAW in violation of his constitutional rights.

But Judge Pritchard, in denying the plea in Superior Court, commented that GM, in opposing the suit, contended the new contract would merely force all employes to pay UAW initiation fees and dues but wouldn't force them to participate in any union activities.

Young Brothers Perish In Icebox As Pal Shuts Door

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 17 (AP)—A five-year-old boy told police today he clanged shut the door of an old refrigerator in which two young brothers—aged 5 and 2—were suffocated yesterday.

The playmate, Carl Jenkins, said he couldn't open the door again after closing it. The bodies of Lewis Andrews, 5, and his brother, Lee, 2, were found by their mother six hours later.

UMW Welfare Fund Increases

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers chief, reported today that the UMW welfare and retirement fund grew more than 10 per cent in the past year, winding up with a cash balance of $103,607,911.

This balance, which was for June 30, 1955, compared with cash on hand of $93,565,044 on June 30, 1954.

Lewis, chairman and chief executive officer of the welfare and retirement fund said in the fund's annual report that revenue to the fund during the year amounted to $129,227,658 and that expenditures totaled $119,184,791.

Virtually the entire revenues of the fund come from royalties collected by the United Mine Workers under labor agreements with the mine operators on each ton of coal mined.

Missing Girl Found; Wed Fellow Worker

BALTIMORE, Aug. 17 (AP) — Frances Marine, Veterans Administration stenographer missing since last Friday was found today —shortly after police issued a 16-state alarm—in Washington, married to a fellow worker.

Frances' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland C. Marine, had told police they feared their daughter had been kidnaped. They said they did not believe she sent a telegram they received Saturday from Silver Spring which read: "Married. See you in a few days. Frances."

That apparently is just what happened.

Marine told police he talked by telephone today with Earl Moore, his daughter's new husband and was assured Frances would be home tonight, "for a visit."

Union Shop Clause In GM Pact Upheld

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 17 (AP) — Judge Walter Pritchard upheld a union shop clause in the new General Motors wage contract today, saying he has no right to write a so-called "right to work" law, defeated by three Indiana legislatures.

V. R. Smith, 40, an employe of GM's Allison division here, had asked for an injunction against enforcement of the new CIO United Auto Workers contract with GM. He contended it would force him to join UAW in violation of his constitutional rights.

But Judge Pritchard, in denying the plea in Superior Court, commented that GM, in opposing the suit, contended the new contract would merely force all employes to pay UAW initiation fees and dues but wouldn't force them to participate in any union activities.

Young Brothers Perish In Icebox As Pal Shuts Door

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 17 (AP)—A five-year-old boy told police today he clanged shut the door of an old refrigerator in which two young brothers—aged 5 and 2—were suffocated yesterday.

The playmate, Carl Jenkins, said he couldn't open the door again after closing it. The bodies of Lewis Andrews, 5, and his brother, Lee, 2, were found by their mother six hours later.

Crash Into House Being Moved Fatal

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17 (AP)—A beam protruding from a house being moved down Florence Avenue killed a father of five today when his car crashed into the house.

Police said Charles Crawford Jefferson, 23, Garden Grove, was struck on the chin by the beam. The accident happened in suburban Bell Gardens as the house was being towed down the street by a truck-trailer.

Buscher's Job Eased By SRC

BALTIMORE, Aug. 17 (AP) — The State Roads Commission today announced Joseph D. Buscher of Silver Spring is being relieved of his duties as administrative director of its right-of-way division in order to devote his full time to his job as the agency's chief legal officer.

Buscher is a special assistant to Maryland's attorney general and assigned to Roads Commission work.

"Mr. Buscher's duties in connection with the legal work of the commission have become so exhaustive that it was thought best he drop the right-of-way title," said Russell H. McCain, chairman of the commission.

He still is in charge of all condemnation suits involved in the acquisition of highway rights-of-way as well as the legal work for acquisition of land for the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel.

McCain said the move "is in no way connected" with recent disclosures of widespread land speculation along the routes of new highways.

Body Of Drowned Dentist Recovered

CLEAR SPRING, Md., Aug. 17 (AP)—The body of Dr. Calvin Dirting, 38-year-old Martinsburg dentist whose boat was swept over Dam No. 5 on the Potomac River last Saturday, was found today.

Trooper E. E. Roush of the West Virginia State Police and W. W. Parsons, a West Virginia conservation officer, spotted it floating in the river about two miles below the dam.

Dr. Dirting and a companion, Saufley Fiddle, were carried over the dam while fishing in the dark. Heavy rains which preceded Hurricane Connie had produced flood conditions on the river.

Fiddle was able to swim ashore.

The schooner, carrying 250 tons of fertilizer from Baltimore, was operated by W. E. Valliant and Co. of Cambridge, Md., her home port.

The Coast Guard earlier had set a hearing starting next Monday on the sinking of the Levin J. Marvel, another old sailing craft which went down off North Beach with the loss of 14 lives.

Stock Market Pulled Out Of Doldrums By Late Rally

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP) — The stock market was pulled out of a slump today by a late rally, but the force of the recovery movement wasn't enough to create a definitely higher trend.

The rally was in the hands of railroads, steels, motors, and coppers, which had been strong throughout the session.

These four divisions held to almost the best of their gains to the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 40 cents at $171.00. A rise of $1.10 in the railroad component was responsible for most of that boost. The industrial component remained unchanged while utilities declined 10 cents.

Coppers were strong from the first as they have been for several days in anticipation of a price rise. Today the Anaconda Co. initiated an increase in the price of copper to 40 cents from 36 cents. That is the highest price for the metal since 1872.

Stock Market Pulled Out Of Doldrums By Late Rally

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP) — The stock market was pulled out of a slump today by a late rally, but the force of the recovery movement wasn't enough to create a definitely higher trend.

The rally was in the hands of railroads, steels, motors, and coppers, which had been strong throughout the session.

These four divisions held to almost the best of their gains to the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 40 cents at $171.00. A rise of $1.10 in the railroad component was responsible for most of that boost. The industrial component remained unchanged while utilities declined 10 cents.

Coppers were strong from the first as they have been for several days in anticipation of a price rise. Today the Anaconda Co. initiated an increase in the price of copper to 40 cents from 36 cents. That is the highest price for the metal since 1872.

Testimonial Banquet Honors Conley

A testimonial dinner was held Tuesday night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club in honor of Arthur W. Conley, superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company's Cumberland Division for the past two years, who has been promoted to general superintendent of the company's transportation.

Several hundred people attended the affair, including representatives from Baltimore, Chicago, Louisville, Toledo, Dayton, Cincinnati, Niles, Pittsburgh, Grafton and other points covered by the 300 miles of railroad comprising the Cumberland Division.

The program opened with invocation by Rev. H. M. Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church. William C. Baker, Baltimore, vice president of the B&O, spoke concerning the career of Conley with the company, while G. Murray Campbell, Chicago, vice president and executive representative of the rail company, also spoke briefly. William A. Gunter was toastmaster.

E. C. Cavey, trainmaster for the Cumberland Division, presented matched leather luggage to Mr. and Mrs. Conley on behalf of those attending the program.

Among those seated at the speakers table were George M. Leilich, vice president of the Western Maryland Railway; T. J. Klauenberg, who succeeded Conley as superintendent of the Cumberland Division; Edmund S. Burke, president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; Wilbur R. Galloway, general manager of the B&O's eastern region; U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall.

Joseph M. Naughton, president of the Second National Bank; John H. Mosner, vice president of the Second National; John Edwards Jr., who recently retired as general manager of the B&O eastern region, and Mayor Roy W. Eves, superintendent of the B&O's Bolt and Forge Shops here.

Milo H. Clem was general chairman of the testimonial, while Leo C. Boyd was program chairman. Dinner arrangements were handled by R. W. Pitcher; entertainment, J. J. Conner; transportation, B&O Police Capt. Burr James; presentation of gift, Cavey, and reception, W. W. Frey and A. F. White.

Cotopaxi, 19,334-foot volcano in the Ecuadoran Andes, is the tallest of the world's active volcanos.

Child Is Burned

Stephen Hartsock, 3½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hartsock, 715 Glenmore Street, was admitted to Memorial Hospital Tuesday evening with second and third degree burns suffered in an accident at his home.

Attaches at the hospital said the child suffered burns on his right arm and chest. The mishap occurred when the child's father was making instant coffee and the hot water accidentally spilled down over the body of the boy.

The child was discharged from the hospital yesterday morning.

Testimonial Banquet Honors Conley

A testimonial dinner was held Tuesday night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club in honor of Arthur W. Conley, superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company's Cumberland Division for the past two years, who has been promoted to general superintendent of the company's transportation.

Several hundred people attended the affair, including representatives from Baltimore, Chicago, Louisville, Toledo, Dayton, Cincinnati, Niles, Pittsburgh, Grafton and other points covered by the 300 miles of railroad comprising the Cumberland Division.

The program opened with invocation by Rev. H. M. Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church. William C. Baker, Baltimore, vice president of the B&O, spoke concerning the career of Conley with the company, while G. Murray Campbell, Chicago, vice president and executive representative of the rail company, also spoke briefly. William A. Gunter was toastmaster.

E. C. Cavey, trainmaster for the Cumberland Division, presented matched leather luggage to Mr. and Mrs. Conley on behalf of those attending the program.

Among those seated at the speakers table were George M. Leilich, vice president of the Western Maryland Railway; T. J. Klauenberg, who succeeded Conley as superintendent of the Cumberland Division; Edmund S. Burke, president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; Wilbur R. Galloway, general manager of the B&O's eastern region; U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall.

Joseph M. Naughton, president of the Second National Bank; John H. Mosner, vice president of the Second National; John Edwards Jr., who recently retired as general manager of the B&O eastern region, and Mayor Roy W. Eves, superintendent of the B&O's Bolt and Forge Shops here.

Milo H. Clem was general chairman of the testimonial, while Leo C. Boyd was program chairman. Dinner arrangements were handled by R. W. Pitcher; entertainment, J. J. Conner; transportation, B&O Police Capt. Burr James; presentation of gift, Cavey, and reception, W. W. Frey and A. F. White.

Child Is Burned

Stephen Hartsock, 3½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hartsock, 715 Glenmore Street, was admitted to Memorial Hospital Tuesday evening with second and third degree burns suffered in an accident at his home.

Attaches at the hospital said the child suffered burns on his right arm and chest. The mishap occurred when the child's father was making instant coffee and the hot water accidentally spilled down over the body of the boy.

The child was discharged from the hospital yesterday morning.

Lawyers, In Security Case Studied, Report Guilt Is Presumed Until Innocence Proved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—In 50 case studies a group of lawyers described today what happens to some employees accused under the various federal loyalty-security programs.

Neither praising nor condemning the controversial procedures surveyed, the lawyers bulky compilation quoted evidence that an accused:

1. Is presumed to be guilty until proved innocent.

2. Rarely is allowed to learn the names of his accusers.

3. Is not always told the nature of all the evidence against him.

4. May be suspended for years before the cloud of charges is finally resolved.

The case studies ranged under six different government security programs, each independent of the other, which touch an estimated 10 million jobholders in government and defense contract industries.

Adam Yarmolinsky, Washington lawyer and former law clerk to Supreme Court Justice Stanley Reed, who edited the case studies, emphasized in an accompanying statement:

"No attempt should be made at an over-all appraisal of the federal personnel security programs on the basis of this small collection of cases."

In an introduction to the volume, titled "Case Studies in Personnel Security," Yarmolinsky said a summary report on some 250-300 cases in all will be released after completion of the studies by 118 lawyers assigned to the task. This will be in about six weeks.

Yarmolinsky said he personally selected the lawyers from prominent law firms in 23 cities from coast to coast. He said he took precautions to avoid any bias in their findings.

The study was financed by a grant from the Fund for the Republic, of New York City, which describes itself as an independent, nonprofit corporation concerned with civil rights.

Yarmolinsky said the fund is endowed by the Ford Foundation, and is headed by Paul G. Hoffman as chairman of the board of directors and Dr. Robert Hutchins, former chancellor of the University of Chicago, as its president.

"The publication of this preliminary collection has been motivated by a desire to stimulate suggestions comments and additional material," Yarmolinsky's introduction said.

Among the 50 cases surveyed, one was a "double header" with charges against a husband and wife treated as a single case. Of the 51 persons accused, 27 were cleared. Adverse findings were made against 21. No disposition was made of the charges against one man. In the double header case, both husband and wife resigned their government jobs before hearings, but the husband later was allowed to retire, presumably on pension.

In this case the wife testified her husband became "irrational" from worry over the charges, and refused to allow a defense to be entered. One of the charges against her was that "you have continued sympathetic association with your husband . . . , who is presently charged under the provisions of Administrative Order (space left blank)."

The case studies' which named none of the accused embraced 31 under the government employees security program; 14 under the industrial security program governing workers for firms which have government contracts, one involving an atomic scientist under the Atomic energy security program, one each under the port security and international organizations programs and two under military personnel security program.

The document reported only two cases where the government hearing boards produced accusing witnesses for cross examination.

Repeatedly the case studies quoted statements in charges filed against employees that "you are directed to show cause why you should not be removed." That, Yarmolinsky said, placed the burden of proof on the accused. He said this was "a characteristic common to all the programs."

One case study dealt with a man suspended by the Navy from a "sub-professional personnel job" who went through three hearings in two years and five months before he was cleared of having been a Communist or Communist sympathizer.

Among questions asked him at his third hearing was "what do you think of female chastity?" the reply, if any, was not recorded.

In another case, a geographer for the Army first was ruled to be a security risk, then cleared after protesting that a hearing board lawyer had asked him improper questions. The case study said he had protested that questions put by the lawyer indicated the hearing board should pass on "the correctness of any thoughts" the geographer might have about religion, the press, and partisan politics.

The geographer apparently was one of those accused, but never named publicly, by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in his early Communist government charges. The compilation said the man "had been previously cleared on four separate occasions" one of them in 1950 by a Senate subcommittee after charges by a United States sena-

Yarmolinsky said the senator was McCarthy but declined to comment further.

The case studies showed it sometimes took more than three years to dispose of charges, with two years or more between the time of hearing and the decision of the hearing board. Meanwhile it said, the accused stood suspended from the payroll. In other instances, it said, decisions were reached within a period of months

State Roads Group Eyes Expressway Court Ruling

The State Roads Commission will formally sign its contract with the Mayor and Council of Cumberland to build the crosstown expressway upon receipt of the formal opinion of the Court of Appeals upholding the city's right to enter into this pact.

Russell H. McCain, chairman of the State Roads Commission, said in Baltimore yesterday that he had requested the SRC legal counsel, Joseph D. Buscher, for a ruling on the signing of the contract.

Buscher advised the SRC to wait until the formal, written mandate of the Court of Appeals is received. That will be soon, McCain said.

On July 28, the Court of Appeals upheld an Allegany County Circuit Court ruling that the Mayor and Council were acting within due powers in affecting the contract.

W. Wallace McKaig, local industrialist, had filed a suit against the city in an effort to have the contract overthrown because the Mayor and Council, he charged, had exceeded its authority.

The crosstown project, estimated to cost $10,000,000, would have the city contributing $490,000 of that total. The local share would be from the city's share of gasoline tax money from the state which annually amounts to $70,000 or more.

100F Degree Work Planned This Evening At Local Temple

The initiatory degree will be conferred at a special meeting of Chosen Friends Lodge 34, IOOF, today at 7:30 p. m. at Odd Fellows Temple, South Mechanic Street. This meeting is being held in order to have candidates prepared for the first degree to be given Friday night in conjunction with the three-day state-wide rally of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs being held here Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The first degree will be conferred by a degree staff from Philos Lodge 91, Westernport, at 7 p. m., Friday. Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment officers of the state will be in attendance, along with the Department Council Patriarch Militants.

At the conclusion of degree work the members will go to Ali Ghan Shrine City Club for an open meeting where Horace P. Whitworth Jr., attorney and former member of the House of Delegates and a member of Philos Lodge 91, will make the principal address.

Grand officers will be introduced and speak briefly.

Ewald has been employed by the Potomac Edison since 1931 and has held various posts in the company's commercial department in Piedmont and Hagerstown as well as Cumberland. He has been district commercial manager since 1948.

Hardy Co. Cattlemen Show Interest In Better Herds

70 Hear Talk By Feeding Specialist

MOOREFIELD—Cattle breeders and livestockmen from four counties heard Ray W. Pifer, livestock specialist, speak on cattle feeding at a banquet at Duffey Memorial Methodist Church Wednesday night. About 70 cattlemen were guests.

Pifer illustrated his talk with a series of slides and showed that the modern method of feeding cattle was a scientific and carefully controlled program as compared with the method of feeding cattle only a few years ago. He said that cattle feeding is a complex program and correct procedure in feeding the right quantities of proteins, fats, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins varies with the age of the animal, with the weight, and with the purpose for which the animal is fed. He demonstrated different feeding procedure for growers who were producing choice to prime beef, for producers of utility to choice meats or with the purebred breeders.

Pifer told what the new wonder chemical, stilbestrol, would do and how it would produce an average of 19 per cent more weight with 11 per cent less food. He said he did not recommend stilbestrol on breeder herds as a feed and spoke of several other instances when the drug was not recommended.

Pifer recommended marketing beef cattle within the next few weeks as fall and winter prices would probably be off somewhat due to the large production of hogs, which directly affect beef prices.

John Chapman, manager of the local Rocco Feeds, Inc., was host and toastmaster at the banquet. He introduced his assistant Irvin Bowman, William Toohey, head of his sales department and Charles Buckley, who in turn introduced the speaker. Chapman also introduced C. C. Wise, cashier of South Branch Valley National Bank, George Moomau, cashier of Grant County Bank, Ralph Pratt, head of the ASC office in Hardy County and Clyde Bonar, president of the West Virginia Farm Bureau. The Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor of the Duffey Memorial church, delivered the invocation.

Hardy Co. Cattlemen Show Interest In Better Herds

70 Hear Talk By Feeding Specialist

MOOREFIELD—Cattle breeders and livestockmen from four counties heard Ray W. Pifer, livestock specialist, speak on cattle feeding at a banquet at Duffey Memorial Methodist Church Wednesday night. About 70 cattlemen were guests.

Pifer illustrated his talk with a series of slides and showed that the modern method of feeding cattle was a scientific and carefully controlled program as compared with the method of feeding cattle only a few years ago. He said that cattle feeding is a complex program and correct procedure in feeding the right quantities of proteins, fats, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins varies with the age of the animal, with the weight, and with the purpose for which the animal is fed. He demonstrated different feeding procedure for growers who were producing choice to prime beef, for producers of utility to choice meats or with the purebred breeders.

Pifer told what the new wonder chemical, stilbestrol, would do and how it would produce an average of 19 per cent more weight with 11 per cent less food. He said he did not recommend stilbestrol on breeder herds as a feed and spoke of several other instances when the drug was not recommended.

Pifer recommended marketing beef cattle within the next few weeks as fall and winter prices would probably be off somewhat due to the large production of hogs, which directly affect beef prices.

John Chapman, manager of the local Rocco Feeds, Inc., was host and toastmaster at the banquet. He introduced his assistant Irvin Bowman, William Toohey, head of his sales department and Charles Buckley, who in turn introduced the speaker. Chapman also introduced C. C. Wise, cashier of South Branch Valley National Bank, George Moomau, cashier of Grant County Bank, Ralph Pratt, head of the ASC office in Hardy County and Clyde Bonar, president of the West Virginia Farm Bureau. The Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor of the Duffey Memorial church, delivered the invocation.

Tough Luck Lad Good Bet To Wear Admiral Stripes

BRADENTON, Fla., Aug. 17 (AP)—Ready your salutes, mates, for this lad who's a good bet to wear the wide gold stripe of an admiral some day.

Thomas A. Northam Jr. has had the toughest sort of time just getting started. Hard luck has rubbed off on him and he's spurned chances to become a major league baseball player. But it looks like he's on his way now.

Here's the story of Northam who's now in his final year at the U. S. Naval Academy:

Graduated from Sewanee Military Academy where he received 13 letters in athletics, he received enticing offers to play professional baseball. Nothing doing. His dad is a retired Army colonel and a military career was for young Tom.

He received an appointment to the U. S. Military Academy. While playing on the plebe football team in 1949 he broke a shoulder, was hospitalized and missed so many classes he had to drop out.

Then he won a presidential appointment to the naval academy. In a pre-season scrimmage his shoulder went on the blink again but despite this he managed to keep up with his classes this time. Then in the spring a lacrosse ball struck him in the throat and in the healing process, came a case of double pneumonia.

That would have meant the end of the road for many, not this young man.

He enlisted in the Navy and after serving a year took the fleet-wide examinations for the naval academy. He was one of the high men in the exams, received an appointment and after prepping at a preparatory school once again entered Annapolis.

Northam gave up football and baseball—for evident reasons—became an active gymnast and developed into a top flight rope climber.

"It's not as bonebreaking as football. This time I'm going to graduate," vows the determined young husky.

Speedup In Education Appears Feasible

Lafayette College, located in Easton, Pennsylvania, has been conducting an interesting experiment since 1951 on the advisability of admitting outstanding students with only two years of high school preparation. The first group has just been graduated and the results seem favorable.

Known as the "Early Admission Program," the experiment began with the admission of 30 two-year high school students into the college as freshmen in 1951. Of this original group all but eight graduated this summer, and of the eight who dropped out only two were found not ready for college work and went back to high school. The other six transferred to other schools, went into the armed services, etc.

This is not the first time, of course, that outstanding high school students entered higher institutions without completing their four years of high school. But it is believed to be the first time any college actually sponsored a program to encourage the practice, and judging from the results Lafayette is to be congratulated.

Not only were the students in this unique group able to hold their own but, according to their records, they swarmed all over their classmates scholastically. Four of the group were elected to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary academic society, as compared with three per cent elected from the remainder of the class.

In addition, close to 40 per cent were on the dean's list, compared to only 12 per cent of the remaining students. The Early Admission Program of Lafayette College may be the answer to many problems concerning the frustrations of high school students and will no doubt be given serious consideration for adoption by other colleges and universities.

Trying To Get Bre'r Rabbit Out Of The Briar Patch

Tanglewood Tales

Each year, during the summer, I try to do as much of Tanglewood as I can, which can mean as many as four concerts a week for six weeks. It is like bathing in glorious music, in conversation about music, in disputes as to the relative merits of composers, conductors, orchestras. But this year, it was particularly inspiring to meet a number of youngsters who attended the Berkshire Music Center, which is part of Tanglewood, and which is producing the American musician of the future. Already two notable conductors, Leonard Bernstein and Thor Johnson, are Tanglewood products and the school has not yet celebrated its 20th anniversary, which is a mighty good showing.

Institutions of this sort grow out of an idea. If they are set up full-blown, somehow they do not mean too much. Tanglewood is now a permanent institution and it would seem to have been on the banks of the Stockbridge Bowl forever.

Actually, when Miss Gertrude Robinson Smith, a resident among these hills, conceived of a few concerts during the summer, the idea was supported by the local savings banks and real estate men in the hope that they might attract residents to the beautiful Berkshires which were fading as a place for summer residence. Today, during most of the summer, it is almost impossible to find a room even in a motel or a boarding house. And that is because Mozart, Hayden, Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, and other great composers are important to Americans, particularly to young people who know much more about music than their immediate ancestors.

We used to think, up here in these hills, that if anything happened to Serge Koussevitzky, Tanglewood would fade away. Koussevitzky died. Charles Munch took his place, assisted by Pierre Monteux. The concerts are more popular than ever; the crowds are larger; and more and more of the huge audience is very young American.

Tanglewood even has had a book written about its development, which gives one a feeling that it has reached a hoary age, when actually it is so very young that I can remember its first concert under a tent. John G. W. Mahanna, a newspaper man of these parts, has written "Music Under the Moon," which tells the story of this amazing festival of which Charles Munch told me that he has been to all the great music festivals in the world, but there is nothing like Tanglewood, nothing that equals its atmosphere, its enthusiasm.

Mahanna's book is a detailed account of how this permanent institution grew from a very simple idea in the mind of an energetic and stimulating lady, Miss Gertrude Robinson Smith, until it became the center of a renewed cultural area in the United States.

The other day, I was discussing this with Fritz Kreisler who summers here and whose presence in these hills grips the young people who barely get a glance at him. He spoke of names that are forgotten, Joachim, Ysaye and men of distant generations. Each generation produces its own genius and its own leadership. If some criticize Leonard Bernstein for what they call his gyrations when he conducts, he nevertheless is able to impart an enthusiasm, an excitement, a cultural outreaching among the young people who come to the Music Center which was described to me by another conductor as miraculous.

It is not enough to love music; it is necessary to compose and play so that all the world will love music. This, somehow, is accomplished here or I, and thousands of others, would not attend these concerts which are difficult to reach, on unbelievably poor roads, and with the most primitive physica. facilities on the grounds. But as a youngster said to me: "Who cares? The music is wonderful!"

One evening is devoted to "Tanglewood on Parade," a potpourri of everything that is done here, including opera as managed by Boris Goldovsky. This year, Arthur Fiedler, of the Boston "Pops," ended that evening with Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever." That may not be in the manner of Debussy, but it was in the best of taste, for it reminded us that Tanglewood is in the United States. Here "The Star-Spangled Banner" is never played. Maybe, Fiedler wanted to remind these musicians that the air they breathe in the Berkshires is American air—even if musical!

'Peaceful Demonstration' A Propaganda Device

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—There's a new propaganda device being introduced in the "Cold War." It's called "peaceful demonstration." It has cropped up in India and in South Korea — and, of course, there's bloodshed in each case.

India's Nehru, who is always championing the cause of "peaceful coexistence," sanctioned a "peaceful demonstration" by a mob from the territory of India which tried to cross over into the little Portuguese colony of Goa, on the Indian coast.

When the Portugese frontier guards fired back to stop the invasion which was deliberately planned for publicity and propaganda purposes, India's premier made a speech of denunciation. As a consequence, India's mobs were inflamed and they paraded in the streets of Bombay and elsewhere demonstrating against Portuguese consulates.

Goa is a tiny territory which has been Portuguese for 400 years. Its representatives are a part of the Portuguese Parliament. It has a Portuguese culture. It no more belongs to India than Hong Kong belongs to China or Bermuda to the United States. The controversy over Goa has been inspired by the Communists, as they know it will tend to strain relations between the United States and India and between Britain and India. That's because the London government has an alliance with Portugal and because the United States needs the Azores for air bases and is about to negotiate a new agreement with Portugal.

All the doubletalk that has been coming from New Delhi about desiring peace in the world has been revealed to be insincere. When it suits Nehru to begin an aggression of his own, he does not hesitate to do so.

The world of "left wingers" will, of course, condemn Portugal and applaud Nehru and argue that is "colonialism" which is being uprooted. But the real purpose of the "peaceful demonstrations" against Goa is to force the issue into the United Nations in the hope that the United States and Britain will be embarrassed and will refrain from participation as some scheme is devised to let India grab the territory of Goa.

As for Korea, the "peaceful demonstrations" there have consisted of riots in protest against the presence of Polish and Czech members of the so-called Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission appointed to carry out the terms of the Panmunjom armistice. It looked for a while as if these pro-Communist members of the commission would be forced out bodily from South Korea but the U. S. military stepped in to prevent it.

Maybe president Rhee knew that would be the result, but maybe also he saw the value of a little propaganda to publicize throughout the world the true situation with respect to the Polish and Czech members of the Commission.

For, while this Commission is permitted to go anywhere in South Korea, the Swedish and Swiss representatives are not allowed to inspect where they please in North Korea. A military buildup in North Korea has been going on ever since the armistice.

The agreement to end hostilities has been ignored and violated by the Communists to such an extent that the Swedish and Swiss members want to resign. Secretary Dulles also thinks it is futile for the Commission to try to operate any more.

The Red Chinese say they want to negotiate for the unification of Korea but in Geneva a year ago they spurned the United Nations and still do. President Rhee is willing to negotiate directly with the North Koreans after the Chinese Red Army is withdrawn and the North Korean Army is demobilized.

The position of the United States in all this is anomalous. The Washington government is committed to the support of a United Nations plan for supervision of any solution. Secretary Dulles sees no sign of any progress toward unification and reiterates that America will not use force to unify Korea. This is a doctrine proclaimed on June 6, 1953, in a letter to President Rhee from President Eisenhower.

The South Korean chieftain, of course, has known for a long time that the prevailing doctrine is to "denounce the use of force." Everybody seems to be willing nowadays to forego any big war or even a medium-sized war. So the new wrinkle is to try "peaceful demonstration." This is merely a means of killing just a few people to earn some headlines.

All that Syngman Rhee wants is that the Communists get off his land and give him back the part of his territory they were unjustly granted at Panmunjom. That's why he, too, puts on a few "peaceful demonstrations." Doubtless he will be denounced by the "neutralists" and "left wing" spokesmen as a disturber of the peace. Yet the chief "neutralist" in New Delhi will continue his coercive economic campaign against Goa and will undoubtedly call it all a "peaceful excursion" with "non-violence." But the right name for the massing of Indians who crossed the frontier is aggression and invasion and it has been and will continue to be provocative of bloodshed. Despite the inspirational meeting at Geneva, the "Cold War" Goes on.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Congress did a big wash. But didn't iron out all the wrinkles.

The compromise housing bill was on a split-level status. The Democrats defeated Ike's plea for wall-to-wall roofing.

In the final analysis its foreign aid policy was slightly Dalmation. Very spotty.

We don't understand the differential in geared opinion on the 10-year highway plexus with superdetours.

Is there any reason why a Democratic driver should be any different from a Republican driver. Provided they both had the same number of drinks?

We agree with the partisan objection to raising the kindergarten age to 18.

Clipping corporate and excise taxes was postponed to a more nutritious lull. That killed the rider on the bill boosting statehood for Formosa.

Ike's show-boat with atom-stoked engines was sunk with all on board. Democrats couldn't figure how our good neighbor policy could be helped by drowning welcome committees with testimonial tidal waves.

What makes the nodding all the more negative is the Democrats are exercising their option on the 85th Congress. Which will be the 84th with the same old faces in the same old seats.

However, Ike's popularity is on the up-beat all over the works. He can give the Democrats both sides of Congress. All he needs is that third house they call Union Station.

If Congress is not riding on good highways this holiday it's their own fault.

We were hoping they would link up those orphan WPA bridges with roads.

Lobbyists Pressured White House Over Strike Of Capital Transit Co.

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Here is another illustration backstage of how the fourth branch of government, the lobbyists, operates backstage in Washington.

Just before Congress adjourned, it rushed through a bill permitting the District of Columbia government to seize the Capital Transit Company, long on strike, and operate its buses and street cars for the benefit of the public.

This strike has had one of the most crippling effects on the nation's capital in years. Yet financier Louis Wolfson, the Florida shipyard operator who owns Capital Transit and has been trying to acquire Montgomery Ward, literally a bill was introduced to take over the company, and the commissioners of the District, who are Republican, demanded that Congress stay in session until the bill was passed.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, though anxious to adjourn, reluctantly did stay in session and did pass the transit-seizure bill.

But despite the demand of his own Republican commissioners, Ike mysteriously delayed signing it.

Mysterious Pressures

What was the reason for this strange delay? Why the demand on the part of Ike's Republican appointees for action, and then the mysterious delay by Ike himself.

The answer is: Backstage pressure by the lobbyists.

And here is how the lobbyists worked.

First, Capital Transit boss Wolfson has been a heavy contributor to both Republicans and Democrats. He and his colleagues placed money on the election campaigns of certain senators just as a gambler places money on different numbers around a roulette wheel figuring that one or the other would pay off. This is a common practice by the officials of big corporations. Having contributed to a senator, they then feel no compunction about asking favors from that senator.

In the Florida campaign to elect Governor Fuller Warren, for instance, Wolfson was recorded as contributing the amazing amount of $200,000.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) ran up against Wolfson's campaign contributions when trying to subpoena him to testify regarding the Capital Transit strike. Wolfson at first appeared to be ducking the Senate District of Columbia Committee.

McNamara Explodes

And when Morse pressed the search, Senator Symington (D., Mo.) came to him, advised that Wolfson had been a generous contributor to the Democrats.

"By mentioning that," said Morse, "you've guaranteed that we'll subpoena him."

When Morse mentioned this and other pressure to his fellow D.C. Committee member, Sen. Pat McNamara of Michigan, Pat's Irish temper exploded. Immediately they issued a "forthwith" subpoena, the toughest subpoena the Senate can issue.

Eventually Wolfson turned up and testified.

Meanwhile his lobbying forces started working on the White House to veto the transit-seizure bill. The pressure, Morse found, was being applied by David Charnay, shrewd, brilliant, one of the most successful public relations men in the nation's capital, an intimate friend of Senator Styles Bridges of New Hhampshire.

It had taken a lot of pressure on Speaker Sam Rayburn and other congressional leaders to get the transit-seizure bill passed, yet now it was stymied in the White House. So Senator Morse phoned Commissioner Sam Spencer, Ike's appointee as "Mayor of Washington."

"I have reason to believe," warned Morse, "that pressure is being applied to the White House not to sign your bill."

"Oh no, nothing like that could happen," replied Commissioner Spencer.

Next day he agreed that Morse seemed to be right. Assistant President Sherman Adams had advised delay, told him it might be possible to settle the strike without seizure.

"I can't understand it," commissioner Spencer told the senator from Oregon. "You're right that the White House staff is urging that the bill be vetoed. You certainly must have some inside information."

The inside information Morse had learned was that Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, friend of Charnay's, was urging Assistant President Sherman Adams of New Hampshire to kill the Capital Transit bill.

"I suggest that the President be reminded that this is a Republican bill," Morse told Spencer, "and that you commissioners wrote it."

Meanwhile, members of the Washington Board of Trade got into the pressure picture on the side of Capital Transit, argued at the White House that seizing a company during a labor argument created a bad precedent.

Faced with these pressure forces, the President waited 12 days from the day Congress had rushed through the bill "on request." Then he signed it — 36 hours before it would have been killed by a pocket veto.

Lady Ex-Judge

Judge Grace Stewart, appointed by Truman to the D.C. Municipal Court but not reappointed by Eisenhower, entered the dining car on a train to New York. Only seat available was at a table partially occupied by Fred Mullen, press relations officer of the Justice Department, and Attorney General Brownell.

Both gentlemen rose, offered Mrs. Stewart a place near the window, Mullen introduced her to Brownell. After some pleasant conversation, Brownell asked:

"Are you enjoying your work on the bench, Judge Stewart?"

"I was," replied the ex-judge, "until you threw me out."

All Passion Spent

By Stewart Alsop

PARIS

"The French people do not wish to be troubled or upset. They wish only to be entertained and kept interested. That is the present mood of France, and Mr. Faure understands the mood very well. That is why, bar the worst kind of crisis in North Africa, his government should last through to the elections in the spring."

The speaker was a high official in the government of Prime Minister Edgar Faure, who is probably France's cleverest politician. The Faure government has no intention whatsoever of troubling or upsetting the French people, if it can possibly help it. As a result, most observers here agree that the Faure government has a better chance of survival than any French government in a long time —if only the trouble in North Africa can somehow be dealt with.

Except for North Africa, all the passion of French politics has suddenly been spent. When this reporter was last in France two years ago, France was engulfed in a great wave of strikes, and two tremendous issues—the war in Indochina and the rearmament of Germany—were troubling and upsetting the French people.

Calmly Prosperous

Now France is calmly prosperous. Production stands at 176 per cent of pre-war. In the last year wages have increased by eight per cent while living costs have held steady. In contrast to England, there is no monetary crisis. All in all, although basic dislocations in the French economy still exist, France is better off now than the most dreamily optimistic Marshall aid planners dared hope a few short years ago.

And now the tremendous issues of two years ago no longer even interest France. As for Indochina, that unfortunate country has simply ceased to exist in French eyes. The process of total abandonment began at Dien Bien Phu, continued at Geneva, and was completed this spring, when the United States insisted on backing the violently anti-French Premier Diem.

As one French official rather bitterly put it: "If you want to shove a knife in our backs, you can hardly expect us to help you push it in. Now Indochina is your baby, and we wish you joy from it." The process of handing over the baby is proceeding apace. French troops are being withdrawn at the rate of 10,000 a month, and by January next there will be left hardly more than a corporal's guard.

From top to bottom, the French have written off Indochina as lost already. This reporter, whose French is halting and most inelegant, asked another high official whether he thought Indochina was "foutu," an impolite word which means, more or less, "all washed up." No, he replied, smiling, Indochina is no "foutu," but "fichu"—a more polite word which means exactly the same thing.

Rearmament Accepted

At any rate, the French nowadays do not want to have to think about Indochina or talk about Indochina, which is perhaps not surprising. But it is surprising that they do not want to think or talk about the rearmament of Germany, which was not long ago the most passionately debated of all issues in France. German rearmament is now accepted as an accomplished fact.

Strangely enough, nowadays the French are not even much disturbed by the prospect of Germany maintaining a bigger army on the Continent than France. Partly this is because the French have at last begun to believe in the Anglo-American commitment in NATO. Partly it is because they have come to realize that, in the nuclear age, the balance of power can no longer be measured in numbers of divisions. But mostly it is because, especially since Geneva, the French simply do not believe in war any more.

This is the most striking aspect of the new mood of France. It is not optimism, exactly—any sensible Frenchman would furiously resent being called an optimist. It is a "relaxation of tensions" so complete as to amount to a condition of total nervelessness.

Conscription Term Lowered

This nerveless complacency is known as "the spirit of Geneva." The spirit of Geneva recently found appropriate expression when the Senate Committee on National Defense voted overwhelmingly to reduce the term of conscription from eighteen months— which the NATO experts have long regarded as inadequate—to sixteen months.

The wisest American observers here believe that Geneva was a net plus for the United States as far as France is concerned, for one simple reason. Geneva knocked into a cocked hat the almost universal French image of American policy as inflexible and warlike. This is a real achievement, but nerveless complacency in America's principal Continental ally may in the end prove a high price to pay for it.

Yet there is one subject which still causes French nerves to jump and jangle. The subject is, of course, the mounting crisis in North Africa. The French reaction today to the North African crisis is oddly reminiscent of the passionate paralysis which was the French reaction to Indochina six or seven years ago—which is one reason why this reporter will soon fly to North Africa for a first-hand look.

Surgery Found To Be Best Treatment For Hernia

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Surgery is the best treatment for hernia. Trusses, while still used, are a second choice as they offer only temporary relief. Most physicians have discarded the injection treatment because results are unpredictable.

There is reason to believe that hernias have existed since the beginning of man. After all, the ancients were made of the same stuff as we are and they came into the world with similar weaknesses and defects. They also did manual labor and subjected their bodies to the usual stresses and strains.

Early physicians treated hernias in the same crude way as they treated everything else. According to Dr. Alfred H. Iason, of Brooklyn, N. Y., up to the middle of the 19th Century surgeons "hacked, hewed, slashed, incised, cauterzed, scarified, and even castrated for the treatment of this condition.

"They stood the victims on their heads, bled and re-bled them unmercifully; applied hot and cold poultices, and tortured with tobacco enemas and drastic purges. They used screws, pins, needles, wires, scapels, scissors, bivalve instruments, and syringes with which they injected blood, salt, iodine, air, water, alcohol, and acids."

The modern surgeon strengthens the weakened abdominal wall by correcting the basic defect. Most hernias are in the groin, in a spot that remains open in the developing fetus. After the baby is born, Mother Nature may do a poor job of closing the area and, as a result of this weakness, the intestine pokes through the opening, producing a bulge.

These soft swellings increase in size on standing, straining, or coughing. This is understandable as such actions increase pressure within the abdominal cavity. Conversely, the hernia is likely to disappear with gentle pressure from the fingers or when the individual lies on his back and relaxes.

Hernia seldom is painful except during early stages. At this time it may hurt to cough, blow the nose, or lift a heavy object. When hernia appears after strain, injury, or pregnancy the victim tends to blame the incident rather than his or her anatomy. As a rule, the weakness existed long before and

But the real purpose of the "peaceful demonstrations" against Goa is to force the issue into the United Nations in the hope that the United States and Britain will be embarrassed and will refrain from participation as some scheme is devised to let India grab the territory of Goa.

As for Korea, the "peaceful demonstrations" there have consisted of riots in protest against the presence of Polish and Czech members of the so-called Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission appointed to carry out the terms of the Panmunjom armistice. It looked for a while as if these pro-Communist members of the commission would be forced out bodily from South Korea but the U. S. military stepped in to prevent it.

Maybe president Rhee knew that would be the result, but maybe also he saw the value of a little propaganda to publicize throughout the world the true situation with respect to the Polish and Czech members of the Commission.

For, while this Commission is permitted to go anywhere in South Korea, the Swedish and Swiss representatives are not allowed to inspect where they please in North Korea. A military buildup in North Korea has been going on ever since the armistice.

The agreement to end hostilities has been ignored and violated by the Communists to such an extent that the Swedish and Swiss members want to resign. Secretary Dulles also thinks it is futile for the Commission to try to operate any more.

The Red Chinese say they want to negotiate for the unification of Korea but in Geneva a year ago they spurned the United Nations and still do. President Rhee is willing to negotiate directly with the North Koreans after the Chinese Red Army is withdrawn and the North Korean Army is demobilized.

The position of the United States in all this is anomalous. The Washington government is committed to the support of a United Nations plan for supervision of any solution. Secretary Dulles sees no sign of any progress toward unification and reiterates that America will not use force to unify Korea. This is a doctrine proclaimed on June 6, 1953, in a letter to President Rhee from President Eisenhower.

The South Korean chieftain, of course, has known for a long time that the prevailing doctrine is to "denounce the use of force." Everybody seems to be willing nowadays to forego any big war or even a medium-sized war. So the new wrinkle is to try "peaceful demonstration." This is merely a means of killing just a few people to earn some headlines.

All that Syngman Rhee wants is that the Communists get off his land and give him back the part of his territory they were unjustly granted at Panmunjom. That's why he, too, puts on a few "peaceful demonstrations." Doubtless he will be denounced by the "neutralists" and "left wing" spokesmen as a disturber of the peace. Yet the chief "neutralist" in New Delhi will continue his coercive economic campaign against Goa and will undoubtedly call it all a "peaceful excursion" with "non-violence." But the right name for the massing of Indians who crossed the frontier is aggression and invasion and it has been and will continue to be provocative of bloodshed. Despite the inspirational meeting at Geneva, the "Cold War" Goes on.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Congress did a big wash. But didn't iron out all the wrinkles.

The compromise housing bill was on a split-level status. The Democrats defeated Ike's plea for wall-to-wall roofing.

In the final analysis its foreign aid policy was slightly Dalmation. Very spotty.

We don't understand the differential in geared opinion on the 10-year highway plexus with superdetours.

Is there any reason why a Democratic driver should be any different from a Republican driver. Provided they both had the same number of drinks?

We agree with the partisan objection to raising the kindergarten age to 18.

Clipping corporate and excise taxes was postponed to a more nutritious lull. That killed the rider on the bill boosting statehood for Formosa.

Ike's show-boat with atom-stoked engines was sunk with all on board. Democrats couldn't figure how our good neighbor policy could be helped by drowning welcome committees with testimonial tidal waves.

What makes the nodding all the more negative is the Democrats are exercising their option on the 85th Congress. Which will be the 84th with the same old faces in the same old seats.

However, Ike's popularity is on the up-beat all over the works. He can give the Democrats both sides of Congress. All he needs is that third house they call Union Station.

If Congress is not riding on good highways this holiday it's their own fault.

We were hoping they would link up those orphan WPA bridges with roads.

Surgery Found To Be Best Treatment For Hernia

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Surgery is the best treatment for hernia. Trusses, while still used, are a second choice as they offer only temporary relief. Most physicians have discarded the injection treatment because results are unpredictable.

There is reason to believe that hernias have existed since the beginning of man. After all, the ancients were made of the same stuff as we are and they came into the world with similar weaknesses and defects. They also did manual labor and subjected their bodies to the usual stresses and strains.

Early physicians treated hernias in the same crude way as they treated everything else. According to Dr. Alfred H. Iason, of Brooklyn, N. Y., up to the middle of the 19th Century surgeons "hacked, hewed, slashed, incised, cauterzed, scarified, and even castrated for the treatment of this condition.

"They stood the victims on their heads, bled and re-bled them unmercifully; applied hot and cold poultices, and tortured with tobacco enemas and drastic purges. They used screws, pins, needles, wires, scapels, scissors, bivalve instruments, and syringes with which they injected blood, salt, iodine, air, water, alcohol, and acids."

The modern surgeon strengthens the weakened abdominal wall by correcting the basic defect. Most hernias are in the groin, in a spot that remains open in the developing fetus. After the baby is born, Mother Nature may do a poor job of closing the area and, as a result of this weakness, the intestine pokes through the opening, producing a bulge.

These soft swellings increase in size on standing, straining, or coughing. This is understandable as such actions increase pressure within the abdominal cavity. Conversely, the hernia is likely to disappear with gentle pressure from the fingers or when the individual lies on his back and relaxes.

Hernia seldom is painful except during early stages. At this time it may hurt to cough, blow the nose, or lift a heavy object. When hernia appears after strain, injury, or pregnancy the victim tends to blame the incident rather than his or her anatomy. As a rule, the weakness existed long before and force was needed to bring it out. There are exceptions because not all hernias are alike.

More and more, surgeons are advocating repair as soon as hernia is discovered. This applies to the one-day-old child as well as to the 40-year-old working man. The operation requires more skill in infancy but the outcome is excellent. Furthermore, when done early in life it is easier to correct the underlying cause because adjacent tissues have not become weakened or over-stretched.

Try And Stop Me!

The new typist, fresh from college, was so pretty that nobody had the heart to reprimand her for obvious shortcomings. The boss saw her frantically searching through the files one morning, and said consolingly, "There, there, Mary. If you've lost something again, it isn't serious enough to burst into tears about it."

"It certainly is," said Mary, choking back a sob. "This time it's my lunch."

Ethel Barrymore, confirmed baseball fan, sat next to an irate lady one day who kept hollering "Kill the umpire! Murder the bum!" The great actress protested, "You're being most unfair. That poor man hasn't done anything."

"That's what you think," hooted

the lady. "He's my husband."

Lobbyists Pressured White House Over Strike Of Capital Transit Co.

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Here is another illustration backstage of how the fourth branch of government, the lobbyists, operates backstage in Washington.

Just before Congress adjourned, it rushed through a bill permitting the District of Columbia government to seize the Capital Transit Company, long on strike, and operate its buses and street cars for the benefit of the public.

This strike has had one of the most crippling effects on the nation's capital in years. Yet financier Louis Wolfson, the Florida shipyard operator who owns Capital Transit and has been trying to acquire Montgomery Ward, literally a bill was introduced to take over the company, and the commissioners of the District, who are Republican, demanded that Congress stay in session until the bill was passed.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, though anxious to adjourn, reluctantly did stay in session and did pass the transit-seizure bill.

But despite the demand of his own Republican commissioners, Ike mysteriously delayed signing it.

Mysterious Pressures

What was the reason for this strange delay? Why the demand on the part of Ike's Republican appointees for action, and then the mysterious delay by Ike himself.

The answer is: Backstage pressure by the lobbyists.

And here is how the lobbyists worked.

First, Capital Transit boss Wolfson has been a heavy contributor to both Republicans and Democrats. He and his colleagues placed money on the election campaigns of certain senators just as a gambler places money on different numbers around a roulette wheel figuring that one or the other would pay off. This is a common practice by the officials of big corporations. Having contributed to a senator, they then feel no compunction about asking favors from that senator.

In the Florida campaign to elect Governor Fuller Warren, for instance, Wolfson was recorded as contributing the amazing amount of $200,000.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) ran up against Wolfson's campaign contributions when trying to subpoena him to testify regarding the Capital Transit strike. Wolfson at first appeared to be ducking the Senate District of Columbia Committee.

McNamara Explodes

And when Morse pressed the search, Senator Symington (D., Mo.) came to him, advised that Wolfson had been a generous contributor to the Democrats.

"By mentioning that," said Morse, "you've guaranteed that we'll subpoena him."

When Morse mentioned this and other pressure to his fellow D.C. Committee member, Sen. Pat McNamara of Michigan, Pat's Irish temper exploded. Immediately they issued a "forthwith" subpoena, the toughest subpoena the Senate can issue.

Eventually Wolfson turned up and testified.

Meanwhile his lobbying forces started working on the White House to veto the transit-seizure bill. The pressure, Morse found, was being applied by David Charnay, shrewd, brilliant, one of the most successful public relations men in the nation's capital, an intimate friend of Senator Styles Bridges of New Hhampshire.

It had taken a lot of pressure on Speaker Sam Rayburn and other congressional leaders to get the transit-seizure bill passed, yet now it was stymied in the White House. So Senator Morse phoned Commissioner Sam Spencer, Ike's appointee as "Mayor of Washington."

"I have reason to believe," warned Morse, "that pressure is being applied to the White House not to sign your bill."

"Oh no, nothing like that could happen," replied Commissioner Spencer.

Next day he agreed that Morse seemed to be right. Assistant President Sherman Adams had advised delay, told him it might be possible to settle the strike without seizure.

"I can't understand it," commissioner Spencer told the senator from Oregon. "You're right that the White House staff is urging that the bill be vetoed. You certainly must have some inside information."

The inside information Morse had learned was that Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, friend of Charnay's, was urging Assistant President Sherman Adams of New Hampshire to kill the Capital Transit bill.

"I suggest that the President be reminded that this is a Republican bill," Morse told Spencer, "and that you commissioners wrote it."

Meanwhile, members of the Washington Board of Trade got into the pressure picture on the side of Capital Transit, argued at the White House that seizing a company during a labor argument created a bad precedent.

Faced with these pressure forces, the President waited 12 days from the day Congress had rushed through the bill "on request." Then he signed it — 36 hours before it would have been killed by a pocket veto.

Lady Ex-Judge

Judge Grace Stewart, appointed by Truman to the D.C. Municipal Court but not reappointed by Eisenhower, entered the dining car on a train to New York. Only seat available was at a table partially occupied by Fred Mullen, press relations officer of the Justice Department, and Attorney General Brownell.

Both gentlemen rose, offered Mrs. Stewart a place near the window, Mullen introduced her to Brownell. After some pleasant conversation, Brownell asked:

"Are you enjoying your work on the bench, Judge Stewart?"

"I was," replied the ex-judge, "until you threw me out."

All Passion Spent

By Stewart Alsop

PARIS

"The French people do not wish to be troubled or upset. They wish only to be entertained and kept interested. That is the present mood of France, and Mr. Faure understands the mood very well. That is why, bar the worst kind of crisis in North Africa, his government should last through to the elections in the spring."

The speaker was a high official in the government of Prime Minister Edgar Faure, who is probably France's cleverest politician. The Faure government has no intention whatsoever of troubling or upsetting the French people, if it can possibly help it. As a result, most observers here agree that the Faure government has a better chance of survival than any French government in a long time —if only the trouble in North Africa can somehow be dealt with.

Except for North Africa, all the passion of French politics has suddenly been spent. When this reporter was last in France two years ago, France was engulfed in a great wave of strikes, and two tremendous issues—the war in Indochina and the rearmament of Germany—were troubling and upsetting the French people.

Calmly Prosperous

Now France is calmly prosperous. Production stands at 176 per cent of pre-war. In the last year wages have increased by eight per cent while living costs have held steady. In contrast to England, there is no monetary crisis. All in all, although basic dislocations in the French economy still exist, France is better off now than the most dreamily optimistic Marshall aid planners dared hope a few short years ago.

And now the tremendous issues of two years ago no longer even interest France. As for Indochina, that unfortunate country has simply ceased to exist in French eyes. The process of total abandonment began at Dien Bien Phu, continued at Geneva, and was completed this spring, when the United States insisted on backing the violently anti-French Premier Diem.

As one French official rather bitterly put it: "If you want to shove a knife in our backs, you can hardly expect us to help you push it in. Now Indochina is your baby, and we wish you joy from it." The process of handing over the baby is proceeding apace. French troops are being withdrawn at the rate of 10,000 a month, and by January next there will be left hardly more than a corporal's guard.

From top to bottom, the French have written off Indochina as lost already. This reporter, whose French is halting and most inelegant, asked another high official whether he thought Indochina was "foutu," an impolite word which means, more or less, "all washed up." No, he replied, smiling, Indochina is no "foutu," but "fichu"—a more polite word which means exactly the same thing.

Rearmament Accepted

At any rate, the French nowadays do not want to have to think about Indochina or talk about Indochina, which is perhaps not surprising. But it is surprising that they do not want to think or talk about the rearmament of Germany, which was not long ago the most passionately debated of all issues in France. German rearmament is now accepted as an accomplished fact.

Strangely enough, nowadays the French are not even much disturbed by the prospect of Germany maintaining a bigger army on the Continent than France. Partly this is because the French have at last begun to believe in the Anglo-American commitment in NATO. Partly it is because they have come to realize that, in the nuclear age, the balance of power can no longer be measured in numbers of divisions. But mostly it is because, especially since Geneva, the French simply do not believe in war any more.

This is the most striking aspect of the new mood of France. It is not optimism, exactly—any sensible Frenchman would furiously resent being called an optimist. It is a "relaxation of tensions" so complete as to amount to a condition of total nervelessness.

Conscription Term Lowered

This nerveless complacency is known as "the spirit of Geneva." The spirit of Geneva recently found appropriate expression when the Senate Committee on National Defense voted overwhelmingly to reduce the term of conscription from eighteen months— which the NATO experts have long regarded as inadequate—to sixteen months.

The wisest American observers here believe that Geneva was a net plus for the United States as far as France is concerned, for one simple reason. Geneva knocked into a cocked hat the almost universal French image of American policy as inflexible and warlike. This is a real achievement, but nerveless complacency in America's principal Continental ally may in the end prove a high price to pay for it.

Yet there is one subject which still causes French nerves to jump and jangle. The subject is, of course, the mounting crisis in North Africa. The French reaction today to the North African crisis is oddly reminiscent of the passionate paralysis which was the French reaction to Indochina six or seven years ago—which is one reason why this reporter will soon fly to North Africa for a first-hand look.

Boston's Ike Delock Snaps Yankees' Win Streak, 7-1

Red Sox Chop New York Lead To One Game

Triples By Hatton, Piersall Mark 5-Run Outburst In Sixth

BOSTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—The resilient Boston Red Sox cut the New York Yankees' American League lead to one game tonight with a 7-1 victory on Ike Delock's five-hit pitching and stand-up triples by Grady Hatton and Jim Piersall which opened the gates for a five-run inning.

The triumph stopped a Yank winning streak at seven games and chopped their lead to one game over the idle Chicago White Sox. Boston's recovery from last night's 13-6 shellacking pulled them back within 3½ games of first place and evened the series at one game each.

Delock, 25-year-old righthander unable to beat the New Yorkers in two previous decisions this season, pitched the game of his major league life for his seventh win. He's lost five.

Delock yielded only two hits until the seventh when Elston Howard doubled and pinch hitter Joe Collins singled for the only Yank tally.

Bill Skowron doubled and Howard walked with two down in the ninth but Delock settled down to get pinch hitter Irv Noren on a popup and Collins to fly out.

It was Delock's first win and first complete game since he beat Washington June 29.

Jackie Jensen drove in three runs on a double and a single to raise his league-leading runs-batted-in total to 94.

Handle Is $221,294, Charles Town Track Also Reports Drop

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 17 (AP) — It rained both here and at Charles Town, W. Va., 28 miles to the south today, but competition from the cross-river track, not the weather, was believed to have held down attendance and wagering at opening of Hagerstown's 10-day race meeting.

Competition also was blamed by a Charles Town Race Track spokesman for cutting into attendance and betting there today.

Hagerstown's opening drew 4,877 persons, who wagered $221,294.

Last year's opening drew 7,631 fans who bet a total of $353,307. There was no competition from Charles Town last year.

At the West Virginia track, daily attendance and betting which have been averaging 4,599 and $300,834, respectively, dropped to 2,587 and $192,078 today.

The Charles Town spokesman said "six separate cloudbursts" marred the program. Hagerstown reported rain from the fourth race on.

Monzant Beats Brooklyn, 5-1

Fans Eight Dodgers, Mays Leads Attack

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—Young Ramon Monzant, in his second major league season, hurled his first complete game tonight while limiting the Brooklyn Dodgers to eight hits and striking out eight as the New York Giants won 5-1 for their second straight triumph over the National League leaders.

The 22-year-old righthander, who now has two triumphs against six defeats, shut out the Dodgers until the seventh, when Don Hoak doubled and Duke Snider singled.

Willie Mays, who had a triple, two singles and a walk, figured in all of the New York runs as rookie Roger Craig took his third defeat against the same number of victories.

Mays tripled home the Giants' first run in the first, walked and scored on Don Mueller's single in the fourth and singled and scored on Mueller's sacrifice fly in the sixth as New York made it 3-0.

In the eighth, Willie went to third when his single off reliever Clem Labine went through Snider, to score Whitey Lockman, and scored himself when Gail Harris followed with a single.

Willie tried to stretch his triple off the left-field wall into an inside-the-park homer in the first, but was nailed at the plate. When the Giants' flash scored in the fourth, he smashed into Plate Umpire Art Gore. Both men went sprawling, but neither was injured.

Sifford Paces Canadian Open With Score 63

Philadelphian Equals Record At Toronto

TORONTO, Aug. 17 (AP)—Charlie Sifford, little known 33-year-old pro from Philadelphia, tore the Weston Golf Club course apart today for a record-equalling nine-under-par 63 and a one stroke lead in the first round of the Canadian Open Golf Championship.

The stocky Sifford, who has just managed to "make breakfast money" in three years on the tournament trail, turned in his brilliant score in mid-afternoon. It held up as the low score of the first day although Arnold Palmer, 1954 U. S. amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa., came through with a 64. Sifford put his score together with a 31-32 while Palmer had a pair of 32s.

The tournament's one-round record was set by Ed (Porky) Oliver of Lemont, Ill., in 1947 at Montreal. Bob Rosburg of San Francisco equalled it last year at Vancouver.

This opening round of the 72-hole, $15,000 tournament erupted into a free-for-all as most of the leading American and Canadian pros clobbered the 6,428-yard course. More than 40 came in with under-par cards. Another score equaled the par 72.

Defending champ Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon wasn't in the select crowd, however. He wound up with a 75, almost beyond recall.

Freddie Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., and Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga came home with 66s, tying Stan Leonard of Vancouver for third place.

The diminutive Jerry Barber, the seasoned shotmaker from Los Angeles, came in with a 67 with a rousing ace on the 130-yard, par 3 fourth hole.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., was in an 11th place tie with 10 others. He shot a 36-33—69.

Bob Satterfield Decisions Valdes

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (AP)—Bob Satterfield, giving up 32 pounds in weight and a half foot in heighth, blasted giant Nino Valdes to the floor in a savage last round tonight but could not keep the bleeding Cuban there and settled for a unanimous 10 round decision.

The crowding, lashing Satterfield—a 3 to 1 underdog—appeared tiring in the last four rounds as the two heavyweights mauled each other trying to land their knockout sledges and end the televised Chicago Stadium brawl. But suddenly, the Chicago Negro uncoiled a left hook that caught Valdes flush on the jaw and followed with a whistling right to the face.

Valdes plopped to the canvas on his haunches. He was up at the count of five but took a mandatory eight count.

Referee Frank Sikora scored in favor of Satterfield 98-92 under the Illinois system of a maximum 10 points per round. Judge James McManus had it 97-93 and Judge John Bray 97-88 for the unanimous decision.

The Associated Press card gave it to Satterfield, 98 to 94.

Boston's Ike Delock Snaps Yankees' Win Streak, 7-1

Red Sox Chop New York Lead To One Game

Triples By Hatton, Piersall Mark 5-Run Outburst In Sixth

BOSTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—The resilient Boston Red Sox cut the New York Yankees' American League lead to one game tonight with a 7-1 victory on Ike Delock's five-hit pitching and stand-up triples by Grady Hatton and Jim Piersall which opened the gates for a five-run inning.

The triumph stopped a Yank winning streak at seven games and chopped their lead to one game over the idle Chicago White Sox. Boston's recovery from last night's 13-6 shellacking pulled them back within 3½ games of first place and evened the series at one game each.

Delock, 25-year-old righthander unable to beat the New Yorkers in two previous decisions this season, pitched the game of his major league life for his seventh win. He's lost five.

Delock yielded only two hits until the seventh when Elston Howard doubled and pinch hitter Joe Collins singled for the only Yank tally.

Bill Skowron doubled and Howard walked with two down in the ninth but Delock settled down to get pinch hitter Irv Noren on a popup and Collins to fly out.

It was Delock's first win and first complete game since he beat Washington June 29.

Jackie Jensen drove in three runs on a double and a single to raise his league-leading runs-batted-in total to 94.

Handle Is $221,294, Charles Town Track Also Reports Drop

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 17 (AP) — It rained both here and at Charles Town, W. Va., 28 miles to the south today, but competition from the cross-river track, not the weather, was believed to have held down attendance and wagering at opening of Hagerstown's 10-day race meeting.

Competition also was blamed by a Charles Town Race Track spokesman for cutting into attendance and betting there today.

Hagerstown's opening drew 4,877 persons, who wagered $221,294.

Last year's opening drew 7,631 fans who bet a total of $353,307. There was no competition from Charles Town last year.

At the West Virginia track, daily attendance and betting which have been averaging 4,599 and $300,834, respectively, dropped to 2,587 and $192,078 today.

The Charles Town spokesman said "six separate cloudbursts" marred the program. Hagerstown reported rain from the fourth race on.

Monzant Beats Brooklyn, 5-1

Fans Eight Dodgers, Mays Leads Attack

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—Young Ramon Monzant, in his second major league season, hurled his first complete game tonight while limiting the Brooklyn Dodgers to eight hits and striking out eight as the New York Giants won 5-1 for their second straight triumph over the National League leaders.

The 22-year-old righthander, who now has two triumphs against six defeats, shut out the Dodgers until the seventh, when Don Hoak doubled and Duke Snider singled.

Willie Mays, who had a triple, two singles and a walk, figured in all of the New York runs as rookie Roger Craig took his third defeat against the same number of victories.

Mays tripled home the Giants' first run in the first, walked and scored on Don Mueller's single in the fourth and singled and scored on Mueller's sacrifice fly in the sixth as New York made it 3-0.

In the eighth, Willie went to third when his single off reliever Clem Labine went through Snider, to score Whitey Lockman, and scored himself when Gail Harris followed with a single.

Willie tried to stretch his triple off the left-field wall into an inside-the-park homer in the first, but was nailed at the plate. When the Giants' flash scored in the fourth, he smashed into Plate Umpire Art Gore. Both men went sprawling, but neither was injured.

Sifford Paces Canadian Open With Score 63

Philadelphian Equals Record At Toronto

TORONTO, Aug. 17 (AP)—Charlie Sifford, little known 33-year-old pro from Philadelphia, tore the Weston Golf Club course apart today for a record-equalling nine-under-par 63 and a one stroke lead in the first round of the Canadian Open Golf Championship.

The stocky Sifford, who has just managed to "make breakfast money" in three years on the tournament trail, turned in his brilliant score in mid-afternoon. It held up as the low score of the first day although Arnold Palmer, 1954 U. S. amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa., came through with a 64. Sifford put his score together with a 31-32 while Palmer had a pair of 32s.

The tournament's one-round record was set by Ed (Porky) Oliver of Lemont, Ill., in 1947 at Montreal. Bob Rosburg of San Francisco equalled it last year at Vancouver.

This opening round of the 72-hole, $15,000 tournament erupted into a free-for-all as most of the leading American and Canadian pros clobbered the 6,428-yard course. More than 40 came in with under-par cards. Another score equaled the par 72.

Defending champ Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon wasn't in the select crowd, however. He wound up with a 75, almost beyond recall.

Freddie Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., and Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga came home with 66s, tying Stan Leonard of Vancouver for third place.

The diminutive Jerry Barber, the seasoned shotmaker from Los Angeles, came in with a 67 with a rousing ace on the 130-yard, par 3 fourth hole.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., was in an 11th place tie with 10 others. He shot a 36-33—69.

In the opener at 6:15 the Red Sox and Senators will clash in the second game of their three-game set. A victory would give the Senators the title for the second straight year while a win for the Red Sox would extend the series to the limit.

B'nai B'rith faces the Optimists in the second game of their Hot Stove League semi-final playoff series at 8:15 p. m. B'nai B'rith copped the opener by the score of 7-4 and could go to the finals by winning tonight's game.

The second game of the Kiwanis-Lions series, scheduled last night, was postponed on account of rain, until Friday night at 3:15 at Penn Avenue Field.

Sports Shoppe and Potomac Valley's Old Germans tangle today at 6:15 at Triple Lakes in the opener of a three-game semi-final playoff series in the County Softball League. Stringtown and Kennell's Mill launch their series on Friday.

Lane, Marion Figure Yanks Team To Beat

See Three-Club Race In American League; Praise Bob Kennedy

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (AP)—It will come as practically no surprise to anybody, but the Chicago White Sox brass — General Manager Frank Lane and Manager Marty Marion—still think the New York Yankees are the team to beat for the pennant.

Each made that appraisal today as the Sox were idle, awaiting a doubleheader tomorrow with Kansas City.

Figures 3-Club Race

"The Yankees are the team to beat—Boston is due for a softening up," declared Lane. "It's a three-club race—the White Sox, New York and Cleveland.

"The Yankee pitching is all right with Don Larsen and Bob Turley, two youngsters donated to them by Paul Richards (Baltimore manager). Bobby Grim is back on the active list and there's Whitey Ford.

"And they've got some pretty good hitting," continued Lane. "Look at Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard, Bill Skowron and Yogi Berra."

Marion nodded agreement. He expects to pilot the Pale Hose to the pennant but admitted that "I just can't see all that talent the Yankees have going to pot."

Praises Bob Kennedy

"But why talk about the Yankees?" he added. "We've got something to talk about right here—and I mean Bob Kennedy. He's a real pro, a real money player. He's the best pickup in the league this year. Kennedy will be our No. 1 utility player next year."

The veteran outfielder-infielder who will be 35 tomorrow, was sent to the Sox by Baltimore for the $10,000 waiver price on May 30. By way of celebrating his home coming (he was with the Comiskeys until they traded him to Cleveland in 1948), Kennedy has batted .359.

The veteran's 33 hits for the Sox include four doubles, two triples and three homers—one of them a grand slammer—in 92 turns at the bat. He has driven in 16 runs.

"He's won at least six games for us with his hitting, and can play any place," beamed Lane. "He's one of the best deals we've ever made. That is probably the best $10,000 we ever spent."

When Bucky Harris managed the Senators last season they won 13 of 22 games from the Tigers. This year Harris, as manager of the Tigers, had led his team to six out of eight from the Senators.

Kaline, Tuttle Star As Tigers Top Tribe, 9-5

Lemon Gets Clubbing, Birrer Bags 4th Win

DETROIT, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, led by outfielders Al Kaline and Bill Tuttle, punished Cleveland's crumbling pitching staff for 14 hits today and handed the Indians their third straight loss, 9-5.

Kaline and Tuttle collected three hits apiece as the Tigers dropped the third place Indians two games out of first place pending tonight's other American League action.

For the third straight game the struggling Indians used four pitchers. Only Art Houtteman, who worked the eighth inning, escaped untouched.

The Tigers clubbed starter Bob Lemon for six hits and five runs in three innings, and continued to hammer away at relievers Bob Feller and Ray Narleski.

Kaline, the league's top hitter since early in the season, pushed his average back to an even .350 with a pair of singles and a two run triple in four trips.

Tuttle collected three straight singles after popping out in his first trip. Frank House chipped in with his 11th homer. Larry Doby, Bobby Avila and Gene Woodling hit home runs for the Tribe, but all came with the bases empty.

Babe Birrer, who replaced starter Jim Bunning in the fifth, gained credit for his fourth victory against two losses.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (INS)—You know the football season can't be far away when college rosters appear and college press agents start naming their All-America candidates before a ball is kicked or passed.

By a strange coincidence each press agent has at least one All-American at his own school and a note gently advises you that if you don't pick Joe Zilch as All-America this year you're nuts.

Sometimes, the P.A. is right. Sometimes he can't go wrong. Thus, if the Princeton P.A. says that Royce Flippin is an All-America halfback we know he is correct because we don't think there is a better college football player in the country.

It is far too early to make anything more than a guess at prospects of various teams in various conferences but we know perhaps a little more what may be in store in the east.

It is our guess that Army this year will have one of the greatest teams in the land. Perhaps it may be the top team. At the worst, it surely will be good enough to give any other team an even battle.

Navy, with its great end Don Beagle and its wonderful Quarterback George Welsh again on the job, will be rugged as usual but we don't think it can repeat last year's victory over Army.

There is little to choose among some of the Ivies. Cornell, Yale, and Princeton will be very good. Harvard is on the upgrade.

Some of the independents, notably Pitt, Penn State, Boston University, Boston College and Syracuse, all are said to be stronger than last year and none of them was a pushover even then.

We have only the vaguest reports about the other sections but one report was significant. That was the one which advises us that Miami is loaded and probably will knock off Notre Dame when the two teams meet.

And the same source advises us that Auburn and Georgia Tech may now.

be better than Miami. If that be true, Notre Dame would rank well down the list this year.

Still, we have heard such stories about Notre Dame in other years only to find the Irish coming up with their usual powerhouse.

A little further north we hear that Maryland and West Virginia are loaded and in each instance we get this information from those two college campuses.

The Southwest again will have a bunch of powerhouses and some of the lesser known schools, rapidly building up football squads, will rank with the very best.

And we have been duly warned not to go overboard trying to pick the best in the Big Ten because, we have been assured, there probably will be some juicy upsets in that conference this year. Still, we think that the team that beats Ohio State will take the title.

Oklahoma we are told will take the Big Seven title again and UCLA figures to rule the roost on the coast. Well, it won't be long

Caroline Gets Offer From Toronto Team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Aug. 17 (AP)—J. C. Caroline said today that he had been offered from $12,000 to $15,000 to play Canadian football this season with the Toronto Argonauts.

Caroline was non-committal on whether he would accept but indicated he would meet with the Argonauts' owner, Harry Sonshine, this week end either in Champaign or Toronto.

The offer reportedly was made Monday night, shortly after the star halfback was declared scholastically ineligible for 1955 by the University of Illinois.

Bill Dietrich Jr., son of the former Athletics and White Sox pitcher, is hurling for the Monroe, La., Cotton States League farm club of the Yankees.

Drake Signs Felker

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 17 (AP)—Gene Felker, former University of Wisconsin end, today was named assistant football coach at Drake University. Felker, 26, will report here before the Sept. 1 opening of football drills.

Lane, Marion Figure Yanks Team To Beat

See Three-Club Race In American League; Praise Bob Kennedy

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (AP)—It will come as practically no surprise to anybody, but the Chicago White Sox brass — General Manager Frank Lane and Manager Marty Marion—still think the New York Yankees are the team to beat for the pennant.

Each made that appraisal today as the Sox were idle, awaiting a doubleheader tomorrow with Kansas City.

Figures 3-Club Race

"The Yankees are the team to beat—Boston is due for a softening up," declared Lane. "It's a three-club race—the White Sox, New York and Cleveland.

"The Yankee pitching is all right with Don Larsen and Bob Turley, two youngsters donated to them by Paul Richards (Baltimore manager). Bobby Grim is back on the active list and there's Whitey Ford.

"And they've got some pretty good hitting," continued Lane. "Look at Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard, Bill Skowron and Yogi Berra."

Marion nodded agreement. He expects to pilot the Pale Hose to the pennant but admitted that "I just can't see all that talent the Yankees have going to pot."

Praises Bob Kennedy

"But why talk about the Yankees?" he added. "We've got something to talk about right here—and I mean Bob Kennedy. He's a real pro, a real money player. He's the best pickup in the league this year. Kennedy will be our No. 1 utility player next year."

The veteran outfielder-infielder who will be 35 tomorrow, was sent to the Sox by Baltimore for the $10,000 waiver price on May 30. By way of celebrating his home coming (he was with the Comiskeys until they traded him to Cleveland in 1948), Kennedy has batted .359.

The veteran's 33 hits for the Sox include four doubles, two triples and three homers—one of them a grand slammer—in 92 turns at the bat. He has driven in 16 runs.

"He's won at least six games for us with his hitting, and can play any place," beamed Lane. "He's one of the best deals we've ever made. That is probably the best $10,000 we ever spent."

When Bucky Harris managed the Senators last season they won 13 of 22 games from the Tigers. This year Harris, as manager of the Tigers, had led his team to six out of eight from the Senators.

Kaline, Tuttle Star As Tigers Top Tribe, 9-5

Lemon Gets Clubbing, Birrer Bags 4th Win

DETROIT, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, led by outfielders Al Kaline and Bill Tuttle, punished Cleveland's crumbling pitching staff for 14 hits today and handed the Indians their third straight loss, 9-5.

Kaline and Tuttle collected three hits apiece as the Tigers dropped the third place Indians two games out of first place pending tonight's other American League action.

For the third straight game the struggling Indians used four pitchers. Only Art Houtteman, who worked the eighth inning, escaped untouched.

The Tigers clubbed starter Bob Lemon for six hits and five runs in three innings, and continued to hammer away at relievers Bob Feller and Ray Narleski.

Kaline, the league's top hitter since early in the season, pushed his average back to an even .350 with a pair of singles and a two run triple in four trips.

Tuttle collected three straight singles after popping out in his first trip. Frank House chipped in with his 11th homer. Larry Doby, Bobby Avila and Gene Woodling hit home runs for the Tribe, but all came with the bases empty.

Babe Birrer, who replaced starter Jim Bunning in the fifth, gained credit for his fourth victory against two losses.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (INS)—You know the football season can't be far away when college rosters appear and college press agents start naming their All-America candidates before a ball is kicked or passed.

By a strange coincidence each press agent has at least one All-American at his own school and a note gently advises you that if you don't pick Joe Zilch as All-America this year you're nuts.

Sometimes, the P.A. is right. Sometimes he can't go wrong. Thus, if the Princeton P.A. says that Royce Flippin is an All-America halfback we know he is correct because we don't think there is a better college football player in the country.

It is far too early to make anything more than a guess at prospects of various teams in various conferences but we know perhaps a little more what may be in store in the east.

It is our guess that Army this year will have one of the greatest teams in the land. Perhaps it may be the top team. At the worst, it surely will be good enough to give any other team an even battle.

Navy, with its great end Don Beagle and its wonderful Quarterback George Welsh again on the job, will be rugged as usual but we don't think it can repeat last year's victory over Army.

There is little to choose among some of the Ivies. Cornell, Yale, and Princeton will be very good. Harvard is on the upgrade.

Some of the independents, notably Pitt, Penn State, Boston University, Boston College and Syracuse, all are said to be stronger than last year and none of them was a pushover even then.

We have only the vaguest reports about the other sections but one report was significant. That was the one which advises us that Miami is loaded and probably will knock off Notre Dame when the two teams meet.

And the same source advises us that Auburn and Georgia Tech may be better than Miami. If that be true, Notre Dame would rank well down the list this year.

Still, we have heard such stories about Notre Dame in other years only to find the Irish coming up with their usual powerhouse.

A little further north we hear that Maryland and West Virginia are loaded and in each instance we get this information from those two college campuses.

The Southwest again will have a bunch of powerhouses and some of the lesser known schools, rapidly building up football squads, will rank with the very best.

And we have been duly warned not to go overboard trying to pick the best in the Big Ten because, we have been assured, there probably will be some juicy upsets in that conference this year. Still, we think that the team that beats Ohio State will take the title.

Oklahoma we are told will take the Big Seven title again and UCLA figures to rule the roost on the coast. Well, it won't be long now.

Caroline Gets Offer From Toronto Team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Aug. 17 (AP)—J. C. Caroline said today that he had been offered from $12,000 to $15,000 to play Canadian football this season with the Toronto Argonauts.

Caroline was non-committal on whether he would accept but indicated he would meet with the Argonauts' owner, Harry Sonshine, this week end either in Champaign or Toronto.

The offer reportedly was made Monday night, shortly after the star halfback was declared scholastically ineligible for 1955 by the University of Illinois.

Bill Dietrich Jr., son of the former Athletics and White Sox pitcher, is hurling for the Monroe, La., Cotton States League farm club of the Yankees.

Drake Signs Felker

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 17 (AP)—Gene Felker, former University of Wisconsin end, today was named assistant football coach at Drake University. Felker, 26, will report here before the Sept. 1 opening of football drills.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 17 (INS)—Ava Gardner inherits her second Greta Garbo remake at MGM in a dramatic-musical version of Eugene O'Neill's classic "Anna Christie." The other Garbo property going to Ava is "The Painted Veil."

There's plenty of excitement at MGM about the new approach to "Anna Christie" because in addition to La Gardner, Howard Keel will be in the role created in the original version by Charles Bickford.

Jules Schermer, the producer, says: "In looking around for the most dramatic and spectacular material we could find for Ava following her wonderful job in 'Bhowani Junction' we decided on O'Neill's great drama set to music. Of course, Ava will sing."

There will be no prying eyes, gossiping onlookers nor even their children around when June Allyson and Dick Powell celebrate their 10th anniversary Friday.

June and Dick are aboard a chartered yacht just off Catalina except for the crew.

Beofre they called off all work on their musical version of "It happened One Night," the Powells told their co-workers at Columbia, "Sometime during the evening of the 19th, we'll just raise our champagne glasses and toast ourselves."

Apparently, the only people who are thoroughly convinced that the Powells are happy are—June and Dick.

Hollywood in shorts:

Grace Kelly and Jean Pierre Aumont, dreamy-eyed about each other again, listening to their friend from Paris, Gilbert Becaud, in the Bali Room.

It's no surprise that Robert Stack's contract was picked up by 20th Century-Fox.

With "The Searchers" completed, Director John Ford flies over the pole to Copenhagen next week.

That's all today.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 17 (INS)—Ava Gardner inherits her second Greta Garbo remake at MGM in a dramatic-musical version of Eugene O'Neill's classic "Anna Christie." The other Garbo property going to Ava is "The Painted Veil."

There's plenty of excitement at MGM about the new approach to "Anna Christie" because in addition to La Gardner, Howard Keel will be in the role created in the original version by Charles Bickford.

Jules Schermer, the producer, says: "In looking around for the most dramatic and spectacular material we could find for Ava following her wonderful job in 'Bhowani Junction' we decided on O'Neill's great drama set to music. Of course, Ava will sing."

There will be no prying eyes, gossiping onlookers nor even their children around when June Allyson and Dick Powell celebrate their 10th anniversary Friday.

June and Dick are aboard a chartered yacht just off Catalina except for the crew.

Beofre they called off all work on their musical version of "It happened One Night," the Powells told their co-workers at Columbia, "Sometime during the evening of the 19th, we'll just raise our champagne glasses and toast ourselves."

Apparently, the only people who are thoroughly convinced that the Powells are happy are—June and Dick.

Hollywood in shorts:

Grace Kelly and Jean Pierre Aumont, dreamy-eyed about each other again, listening to their friend from Paris, Gilbert Becaud, in the Bali Room.

It's no surprise that Robert Stack's contract was picked up by 20th Century-Fox.

With "The Searchers" completed, Director John Ford flies over the pole to Copenhagen next week.

That's all today.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

A FINE PERFORMANCE

SOUTH'S play of the game contract in the deal below was a pleasure to witness.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ K Q 10 9 ♥ Q 8 4 ♦ 7 4 3 ♣ Q 5 2
♠ 6 4 ♥ K 9 2 ♦ A Q J 8 2 ♣ A J 9	N W E S	♠ 5 2 ♥ J 7 5 ♦ 10 9 6 ♣ 8 7 6 4 3
	♠ A J 8 7 3 ♥ A 10 6 3 ♦ K 5 ♣ K 10

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Dble.	Redble.	Pass
Pass	2 ♦	Pass	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

West was understandably reluctant to lead any side suit, so he opened a trump. South studied the dummy carefully—then proceeded as follows:

He took the first trick with the spade queen and led the spade nine to his own jack. Seeing the 2-2 break, he led a low heart toward dummy. West ducked—putting up the king would not have affected the outcome—and of course the heart queen held. Now a heart was led from dummy and South put in the ten. West took his king and chose his safest exit play, his last heart.

South, winning this trick with the heart ace, did not commit the error of cashing his thirteenth heart. Instead, he led the club ten—and now West was "fixed." He could not afford to put up the club ace because this would let South make both the king and queen of clubs, but when West properly covered the ten with the jack, that did not save him either. The club queen won and South reentered his own hand via a trump to the ace. The carefully hoarded thirteenth heart was now cashed and a club discarded from dummy; then declarer led a club, throwing West in.

West now had only a choice of how to commit h

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

A FINE PERFORMANCE

SOUTH'S play of the game contract in the deal below was a pleasure to witness.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ K Q 10 9 ♥ Q 8 4 ♦ 7 4 3 ♣ Q 5 2
♠ 6 4 ♥ K 9 2 ♦ A Q J 8 ♣ 2 ♣ A J 9	N W E S	♠ 5 2 ♥ J 7 5 ♦ 10 9 6 ♣ 8 7 6 4 3
	♠ A J 8 7 3 ♥ A 10 6 3 ♦ K 5 ♣ K 10

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Dble.	Redble.	Pass
Pass	2 ♦	Pass	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

West was understandably reluctant to lead any side suit, so he opened a trump. South studied the dummy carefully—then proceeded as follows:

He took the first trick with the spade queen and led the spade nine to his own jack. Seeing the 2-2 break, he led a low heart toward dummy. West ducked—putting up the king would not have affected the outcome—and of course the heart queen held. Now a heart was led from dummy and South put in the ten. West took his king and chose his safest exit play, his last heart.

South, winning this trick with the heart ace, did not commit the error of cashing his thirteenth heart. Instead, he led the club ten—and now West was "fixed." He could not afford to put up the club ace because this would let South make both the king and queen of clubs, but when West properly covered the ten with the jack, that did not save him either. The club queen won and South reentered his own hand via a trump to the ace. The carefully hoarded thirteenth heart was now cashed and a club discarded from dummy; then declarer led a club, throwing West in.

West now had only a choice of how to commit hara-kiri. He could return a club, yielding a ruff-and-discard, or he could lead a diamond and thereby set up South's king.

Observe that (among other things) South had to handle the hearts precisely as he did to keep West from unblocking the king, which would have been fatal to the contract.

Card of Thanks

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to all who aided and comforted us in our recent sad bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, Harry A. Twigg. Especially do we thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral and the minister, Rev. Arthur Vespa for his comforting words.

Mrs. Harry A. Twigg
and Children.

Golladay Arrives In South America

A. Derr Golladay, Washington Street, who has joined a company of diamond and mineral prospectors, writes that he arrived in Georgetown, British Guiana, in South America on August 10.

He immediately obtained his prospecting license from the British Guiana Commissioner of Lands and Mines, and planned to enter the interior.

Golladay and his associates will be out of touch with the civilized world for two to three months at a time.

B & O Net Income Leads 1954 Rate

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—President Howard E. Simpson of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad said today the B&O had a net income of slightly more than $2,175,000 in July.

Simpson, in an announcement at the regular board of directors meeting, said the figure represented an increase of $1,036,000 over the net income for July, 1954.

Total income for the first seven months of 1955 was approximately $14,821,000, an increase of $6,436,000 over the corresponding period of 1954.

Area Watches

alerts. They were ready if an emergency arose.

Robert R. Golden, official weather observer here said at 9 p. m. that thus far there was no danger, but the outlook was not too cheerful. Temperature reached a high during the day of 81 and a low of 70 with 71 reported at 9 o'clock. In the 24-hour period, rainfall totaled only six-tenths of an inch, and rainfall thus far this week has amounted to only about an inch.

However, Golden pointed out that the barometer was dropping, indicating a low pressure area. Clouds were moving in fast from the direction of Diane. Humidity was 96 per cent. Wind was about 25 miles per hour across Constitution Park. All these pointed to "trouble ahead."

On the favorable side, he commented, the river and Wills Creek here at 9 p. m. were near the normal stage. The rain that had fallen was not a steady downpour but was intermittent. This gives one deluge a chance to run off before another starts. The ground is wet, can absorb very little more water, and what does fall runs off rapidly. This fact, Golden noted, will help streams to swell quickly.

In a special bulletin at 8 p. m. EDT the Weather Bureau said Diane was centered near Danville, Va., still moving to the north-northwest about 15 mph. With this course, the storm path should lie near Lynchburg, Va., and Elkins, W. Va., during the night.

lish city and county on the occasion of Cumberland's Bicentennial.

Present Momentos

Charles H. Roberts, chairman of the Cumberland County Council, also extended greetings and good wishes in a brief accompanying letter, and Mayor R. D. Lancaster, of Carlisle, England, sent hearty congratulations from that city which will celebrate its octocentennial in 1958.

The mementos were accepted by Mayor Roy W. Eves for the City of Cumberland.

Later yesterday afternoon, Burgess Butler presented to city officials commemorative plates and programs issued by Braddock, Pa., during the Braddock's Field Bicentennial in July.

Ceremonies Mark

A promise that progress made in the past will continue was given by Mayor Roy W. Eves, paraprasing an old railroad slogan as "Through rain or floods or deepest snow, Cumberland's ever on its toes."

Earlier yesterday, a plaque was unveiled at the Narrows commemorating the building of a stone bridge built in 1834.

The span was torn down during the paving of the Wills Creek channel several years ago.

William C. Walsh, former attorney general, was the principal speaker at the ceremony sponsored by the Allegany County Historical Society.

Recalls County Centennial With 1889 Memento

With the Bicentennial celebration now in full sway, a local resident has come up with a momento of a festive occasion which was marked in Cumberland in 1889—the Centennial of Allegany County.

George W. Fisher, 112 North Smallwood Street, deputy clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, has in his possession a Centennial badge complete with red, white and blue ribbon.

On one side is inscribed "Centennial Anniversary of Allegany County, 1789-1889, September 23-25." On the reverse side is the Maryland State Seal.

During the Centennial celebration, Fisher said, he was among the school children who marched in the parade which was complete with colorful floats. The line of march at that time, Fisher pointed out, was from Greene Street to Baltimore Street to the vicinity of the old Maryland Avenue School.

Garrett Co. Meet Set By Foresters

The Maryland State Department of Forests and Parks Commission plans to make a tour and inspection of state forest recreation areas in Garrett County on Monday.

William H. Johnson, district forester, who plans to attend, said yesterday the headquarters will be the William James Hotel in Oakland.

Expected to attend the meeting are R. Brooke Maxwell, chairman of the commission; Commissioners Paul B. Naylor of Garrett County, J. Miles Langford of the Eastern Shore, H. Lee Hoffman, Baltimore County and J. Wilson Lork Howard County. Also planning to confer at the meeting are H. C. Buckington, state forester, and Joseph F. Kaylor, director of State Forests and Parks.

Glass Company Gets Two Gas Leases

Two more oil and natural gas leases under which the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company has obtained lease of 309 acres in Election District No. 1 at Little Orleans for 10 years have been filed in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Two hundred acres were leased from James W. Crawford and 109 acres from Bernard S. Michael and Betty P. Michael.

Butler Begins Fellowship

Joseph Thomas Butler, 527 Lowell Avenue, began work Monday on a two-year graduate fellowship in the Winterthur Program in Early American Culture.

Butler began his initial training course this week at the Henry Francis duPont Winterthur Museum at Winterthur, Dela.

The local student was graduated with honors from Frostburg State Teachers College in 1954, and received a master of arts degree in history and art history from Ohio University last June.

His studies in the Winterthur Program will bring him a master of arts degree from the University of Delaware. Following his five-week intensive course on the history of the decorative arts, he will report for classes at the University of Delaware at the opening of the academic year September 21.

Gephart Playlot Has Party Today

Gephart Playground will hold a game party this afternoon and a square dance tonight, with prizes and refreshments for all participants.

According to Judy Snyder, playground director, prize money won in the float parade, when Gephart was awarded first place, is being used to finance the playground party.

Yesterday's picnic and swim party was cancelled because of rain, Miss Snyder said, but today's activities promise to be of interest to all the playground children. At 7 o'clock this evening, the Teen-Age Club will meet to make final plans for their hay ride. Tomorrow final activities of the season will be held.

Pine Avenue Plans Final Event Today

Pine Avenue Playground will hold its final party today from noon until 4 p. m. with various games, relays, and dancing activities highlighting the program.

At 1 p. m. a swimming contest will be held with prizes for all winners. Refreshments will be served to playground registrants at 3 p. m. and an award will be given to the child who accumulated the most ribbons during the year.

The day's special event will be the guessing of the number of pennies in a glass jar. The child whose estimate is nearest to the correct number will receive all the pennies as a prize.

W. Va. Road Project Bids To Open Soon

Bids on three area highway and bridge projects will be opened by the West Virginia Road Commission on August 30.

One of the federal-aid projects is construction of concrete substructure and erection of steel beams on the Mechanicsburg Gap bridge on Route 50 in Hampshire County.

Two state projects include cleaning and painting the Keyser-McCoole Bridge on Route 220, and erection of piers, concrete abutments, and three concrete girder spans on the Blackwater Falls bridge on Secondary Route 29-2 in Tucker County.

You'll float off to sleep after a relaxing bath.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

In summer we take as many short, brisk showers as dress changes and time allow. Come fall and winter and the allure of a luxurious, leisurely bath returns.

Nothing is more relaxing to tired muscles and nerves than an all-over sudsing and languishing in soothing warm water. It helps to overcome fatigue and is the least expensive way to l-e-t g-o thoroughly.

But, that doesn't mean steaming hot baths — they are extremely weakening — and, may even be injurious to your health. For that matter — either extreme, hot or very cold water is stimulating to many people and wakes them up — not a good choice for relaxing or before retiring.

If you add a bath oil . . . the bath can become a glamous ritual as well as a health ritual. It need not be an expensive bath oil (use a capfull of baby oil in the water, and the skin will feel like a baby's when you step out of the tub). A pine bath oil not only gives your whole body the lubrication it needs but is one of the most refreshing and soothing scents known . . . it has remarkable relaxing qualities.

Crystal salts often take too long to dissolve . . . and they do not have the water-softening qualities of the fine-grained bath salts which dissolve quickly. It's wise to keep several kinds of bath aids . . . perfumed oils, bubble bath, and salts on hand — to fit your mood.

Step out of the tub and give yourself a friction rub with a big towel until the skin is pink and glowing. Pat on your favorite bath powder and you are then ready to end your day — with a dreamless beauty sleep.

B & O Net Income Leads 1954 Rate

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—President Howard E. Simpson of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad said today the B&O had a net income of slightly more than $2,175,000 in July.

Simpson, in an announcement at the regular board of directors meeting, said the figure represented an increase of $1,036,000 over the net income for July, 1954.

Total income for the first seven months of 1955 was approximately $14,821,000, an increase of $6,436,000 over the corresponding period of 1954.

Area Watches

alerts. They were ready if an emergency arose.

Robert R. Golden, official weather observer here said at 9 p. m. that thus far there was no danger, but the outlook was not too cheerful. Temperature reached a high during the day of 81 and a low of 70 with 71 reported at 9 o'clock. In the 24-hour period, rainfall totaled only six-tenths of an inch, and rainfall thus far this week has amounted to only about an inch.

However, Golden pointed out that the barometer was dropping, indicating a low pressure area. Clouds were moving in fast from the direction of Diane. Humidity was 96 per cent. Wind was about 25 miles per hour across Constitution Park. All these pointed to "trouble ahead."

On the favorable side, he commented, the river and Wills Creek here at 9 p. m. were near the normal stage. The rain that had fallen was not a steady downpour but was intermittent. This gives one deluge a chance to run off before another starts. The ground is wet, can absorb very little more water, and what does fall runs off rapidly. This fact, Golden noted, will help streams to swell quickly.

In a special bulletin at 8 p. m. EDT the Weather Bureau said Diane was centered near Danville, Va., still moving to the north-northwest about 15 mph. With this course, the storm path should lie near Lynchburg, Va., and Elkins, W. Va., during the night.

lish city and county on the occasion of Cumberland's Bicentennial.

Present Momentos

Charles H. Roberts, chairman of the Cumberland County Council, also extended greetings and good wishes in a brief accompanying letter, and Mayor R. D. Lancaster, of Carlisle, England, sent hearty congratulations from that city which will celebrate its octocentennial in 1958.

The mementos were accepted by Mayor Roy W. Eves for the City of Cumberland.

Later yesterday afternoon, Burgess Butler presented to city officials commemorative plates and programs issued by Braddock, Pa., during the Braddock's Field Bicentennial in July.

A promise that progress made in the past will continue was given by Mayor Roy W. Eves, paraprasing an old railroad slogan as "Through rain or floods or deepest snow, Cumberland's ever on its toes."

Earlier yesterday, a plaque was unveiled at the Narrows commemorating the building of a stone bridge built in 1834.

The span was torn down during the paving of the Wills Creek channel several years ago.

William C. Walsh, former attorney general, was the principal speaker at the ceremony sponsored by the Allegany County Historical Society.

Recalls County Centennial With 1889 Memento

With the Bicentennial celebration now in full sway, a local resident has come up with a momento of a festive occasion which was marked in Cumberland in 1889—the Centennial of Allegany County.

George W. Fisher, 112 North Smallwood Street, deputy clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, has in his possession a Centennial badge complete with red, white and blue ribbon.

On one side is inscribed "Centennial Anniversary of Allegany County, 1789-1889, September 23-25." On the reverse side is the Maryland State Seal.

During the Centennial celebration, Fisher said, he was among the school children who marched in the parade which was complete with colorful floats. The line of march at that time, Fisher pointed out, was from Greene Street to Baltimore Street to the vicinity of the old Maryland Avenue School.

Garrett Co. Meet Set By Foresters

The Maryland State Department of Forests and Parks Commission plans to make a tour and inspection of state forest recreation areas in Garrett County on Monday.

William H. Johnson, district forester, who plans to attend, said yesterday the headquarters will be the William James Hotel in Oakland.

Expected to attend the meeting are R. Brooke Maxwell, chairman of the commission; Commissioners Paul B. Naylor of Garrett County, J. Miles Langford of the Eastern Shore, H. Lee Hoffman, Baltimore County and J. Wilson Lork Howard County. Also planning to confer at the meeting are H. C. Buckington, state forester, and Joseph F. Kaylor, director of State Forests and Parks.

Glass Company Gets Two Gas Leases

Two more oil and natural gas leases under which the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company has obtained lease of 309 acres in Election District No. 1 at Little Orleans for 10 years have been filed in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Two hundred acres were leased from James W. Crawford and 109 acres from Bernard S. Michael and Betty P. Michael.

Butler Begins Fellowship

Joseph Thomas Butler, 527 Lowell Avenue, began work Monday on a two-year graduate fellowship in the Winterthur Program in Early American Culture.

Butler began his initial training course this week at the Henry Francis duPont Winterthur Museum at Winterthur, Dela.

The local student was graduated with honors from Frostburg State Teachers College in 1954, and received a master of arts degree in history and art history from Ohio University last June.

Gephart Playlot Has Party Today

Gephart Playground will hold a game party this afternoon and a square dance tonight, with prizes and refreshments for all participants.

According to Judy Snyder, playground director, prize money won in the float parade, when Gephart was awarded first place, is being used to finance the playground party.

Yesterday's picnic and swim party was cancelled because of rain, Miss Snyder said, but today's activities promise to be of interest to all the playground children. At 7 o'clock this evening, the Teen-Age Club will meet to make final plans for their hay ride. Tomorrow final activities of the season will be held.

Pine Avenue Plans Final Event Today

Pine Avenue Playground will hold its final party today from noon until 4 p. m. with various games, relays, and dancing activities highlighting the program.

At 1 p. m. a swimming contest will be held with prizes for all winners. Refreshments will be served to playground registrants at 3 p. m. and an award will be given to the child who accumulated the most ribbons during the year.

The day's special event will be the guessing of the number of pennies in a glass jar. The child whose estimate is nearest to the correct number will receive all the pennies as a prize.

W. Va. Road Project Bids To Open Soon

Bids on three area highway and bridge projects will be opened by the West Virginia Road Commission on August 30.

One of the federal-aid projects is construction of concrete substructure and erection of steel beams on the Mechanicsburg Gap bridge on Route 50 in Hampshire County.

You'll float off to sleep after a relaxing bath.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

In summer we take as many short, brisk showers as dress changes and time allow. Come fall and winter and the allure of a luxurious, leisurely bath returns.

Nothing is more relaxing to tired muscles and nerves than an all-over sudsing and languishing in soothing warm water. It helps to overcome fatigue and is the least expensive way to relax thoroughly.

But, that doesn't mean steaming hot baths — they are extremely weakening — and, may even be injurious to your health. For that matter — either extreme, hot or very cold water is stimulating to many people and wakes them up — not a good choice for relaxing or before retiring.

If you add a bath oil . . . the bath can become a glamous ritual as well as a health ritual. It need not be an expensive bath oil ruse a capfull of baby oil in the water, and the skin will feel like a baby's when you step out of the tub). A pine bath oil not only gives your whole body the lubrication it needs but is one of the most refreshing and soothing scents known . . . it has remarkable relaxing qualities.

Crystal salts often take too long to dissolve . . . and they do not have the water-softening qualities of the fine-grained bath salts which dissolve quickly. It's wise to keep several kinds of bath aids . . . perfumed oils, bubble bath, and salts on hand — to fit your mood.

Step out of the tub and give yourself a friction rub with a big towel until the skin is pink and glowing. Pat on your favorite bath powder and you are then ready to end your day — with a dreamless beauty sleep.

. . . And From Far Away

The Ernest C. Goff family of Seattle, Wash., registers for the Bicentennial on Good Neighbors Day yesterday. Mrs. Goff, the former Mary Eirich, has lived in Seattle since 1927. She was a schoolgirl in the 1912 homecoming parade, and came back for the 1937 Sesquicentennial. Ceremonies Mark Old, New Bridges

The City of Cumberland yesterday held a commemorative service on the site of a bridge being erected across the Potomac River at a spot crossed by George Washington two centuries ago, after unveiling a plaque to mark the site of one of the original stone bridges on the old Cumberland Road.

Both ceremonies featured the Good Neighbors Day observances held here yesterday as part of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial celebration.

Opening on the site of the new span and within a few feet of George Washington's military headquarters, the Washington Crossing ceremony was interrupted by rain and then continued in City Hall Auditorium.

J. Millard Tawes, comptroller of the treasury, hailed the progress made at the Gateway to the West since Washington crossed the Potomac River here as a youth.

Cites Road Needs

He quoted Washington's comments on Western Maryland roads as "I believe the worst roads ever trod by man or beast."

He said there has been very little progress made during the past 200 years in the condition of the roads, adding he "hoped something will be done about it."

Greetings of the State of Maryland were extended by the Maryland official to the City of Cumberland on its Bicentennial.

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, served as master of ceremonies for the project, and music was provided by the Cumberland Municipal Concert Band.

Rev. H. M. Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, which stands on the site of old Fort Cumberland, gave the invocation.

Represents Britain

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, of West Virginia's Second Congressional district, and Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, of Maryland's Sixth Congressional district, extended congratulations and promised to continue aid toward the flood project of which the bridge is a part.

Greetings from the British Commonwealth were extended N. W. H. Gaydon, first secretary of the British Embassy in Washington.

Performance Last Night Postponed

The third performance of "Redskins and Redcoats," was postponed last night because of rain.

Bicentennial officials said all tickets secured for the performance may be exchanged for remaining performances, either at Bicentennial Headquarters or at the Fort Hill Stadium prior to performances.

The cancellation of last night's spectacle was announced early last night by French Sensabaugh, director, after a committee concluded there were no immediate signs of a break in the rain which began to fall early yesterday afternoon.

Plans were completed yesterday for a brief address from James F. Byrnes, former U. S. Secretary of State and former governor of South Carolina, from his office in Columbia, S. C.

He will speak, by direct wire, during the grand finale of tonight's performance.

South Carolina was one of the states which furnished troops for General Braddock's ill-fated campaign against the French here in 1755.

Area Watches Anxiously As 'Diane' Nears

Storm Loses Its Hurricane Force

Residents throughout the Tri-State Area watched anxiously last night as Hurricane Diane threatened the area with wind and high waters. The Cumberland News received calls from Garrett, Mineral, and Hampshire and Hardy counties, as well as from the Cumberland area, for information about rainfall and the possibility of high water.

Earlier in the day, the Weather Bureau had predicted four inches of rainfall in the Cumberland area. Remembering that about three inches of rainfall here in a few hours has caused floods in the past, this prediction led to some concern and the taking of precautions in many areas.

The contractor on the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project began preparing for high water. E. J. Albrecht Company, operating on Smith's Island, and on the Ridgeley side of the river, moved bulldozers, trucks, and cranes to higher ground. This is the second time in a week, the contractor has moved equipment because of the threat of high water.

Flood control engineers said high water could do considerable damage to some of the work completed on the Ridgeley side.

The C&P Telephone Company here, according to C. Walter Haschert, local manager, said preparations got under way yesterday morning after the company's hurricane committee warned that rain-laden winds were headed this way.

Crews yesterday afternoon were filling sandbags which will be used to protect the rear doorway of the old central office building, the lowest point on the property.

At the same time, gates were opened on the Savage River Dam, to let as much water as possible out of the huge reservoir ahead of the expected deluge. Then, if the Potomac River reaches a high stage, the gates can be closed and Savage River reservoir can be refilled, holding back the flood waters.

These and other precautions were the general picture last night, but no one in an official capacity who had studied the whole weather picture seemed unduly alarmed.

City officials merely said they were watching developments. The Red Cross and Civil Defense units were aware of the situation, but had issued no standby orders or

Firemen's Night Monday Opens Cumberland Fair

The third annual Firemen's Night, marking the opening of the Cumberland Fair at Fairgo next week, will be held on Monday night with a huge parade being planned.

Cromwell C. Zembower, chairman of arrangements, last night said that thus far some 30 units, including volunteer fire companies, auxiliary units and musical organizations, have accepted invitations to participate.

A large number of other units of the Tri-State area are expected to take part, Zembower added. Firemen's Night is being sponsored by the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association in cooperation with the Cumberland Fair Association.

The latest in fire fighting equipment will be in the parade which will form at 6:30 p. m. in the vicinity of the Jockey Club and proceed promptly at 7 p. m. around the track in front of the grandstand.

Zembower stresses that the parade will move out at 7 p. m. promptly in order that the vaudeville acts scheduled at 8 p. m. will begin on time. Some $175 in prizes will be awarded to winners in the parade.

Assisting Zembower in arranging for the event are George Comp, Deer Park; Charles Crawford, Bowling Green; Francis Fatkin, Clarysville; and Harry Beeghley, Oakland. The committee members will also serve as parade marshals.

This year's Fair is being held from August 22 through August 27 with fireworks every night, enlarged and outstanding exhibits of every kind and description, a big midway show and carnival, and daily special attractions of entertainment.

Preceding each exhibition of fireworks, Monday through Friday, will be a 90-minute stage revue in front of the grandstand. The show will start each evening at 8 o'clock.

The exhibit side of the Fair will be open Tuesday through Saturday, afternoon and night with over $10,000 in cash prizes offered to exhibitors this year.

The Mayor and Council will open bids on the project, designated as the North Branch Water Main, on September 19 at 10 a. m.

Plans and specifications for the project are available from the City Engineer.

The water line laying project includes the installation of about 27,000 feet of 18-inch water main and fittings.
